Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Sept. 5.—Property losses of not less than $20,000,000 were caused by the hurricane which took a toll of 1,000 lives and injured 5,000 persons in this capital Wednesday afternoon.

Hunger began to stalk through the debris-filled streets this afternoon, although many thousands of persons had been provided with emergency rationing.

There were so many persons to be supplied with food that the force of relief workers had to be increased hour by hour as more became available for duty.

The hope was expressed by officials that early arrival of supplies by ship would alleviate the situation somewhat.

A gang of prisoners was put to work to-day in the streets helping to clear away the wreckage.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Captain Antonio Silva, Red Cross official, to-day reported 1,000 persons killed, 4,700 homes destroyed, 500 homes damaged and 20,000 persons homeless as the result of the Caribbean hurricane in Santo Domingo City.

Port au Prince, Haiti, Sept. 5.—Two United States marine corps transport planes piloted by Major Davis and Captain Ford, loaded to their capacity with medical and surgical supplies, hopped off from here this forenoon for Santo Domingo City.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The mine sweeper Grebe advised the Navy Department to-day it had left San Juan for Santo Domingo with a medical personnel numbering thirty, under the leadership of Dr. Fernos, assistant commissioner of health and president of the San Juan Red Cross Chapter. The vessel is carrying medical supplies.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 5.—Three relief ships were ready to sail to Santo Domingo to-day.

TOTAL VOTE IN ALL CANADA WAS 3,898,995

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The total number of votes polled in the most recent federal general election was 3,898,995.

Of that number 1,909,955 votes were cast for Conservative candidates and 1,741,860 for Liberals. The remaining 247,180 votes included 69,924 for U.P.A. candidates, 59,155 for Liberal-Progressives and the balance were divided among Progressives, Labor, Farmer, Independents and Communists.

The total vote cast in the general election of 1926 was 3,273,062.

These figures, made available to-day are the result of a check-up of official returns based on the party allotments as designated by the Canadian Press.

FIGURES COMPARED

Conservatives	1,909,955	1,909,955
Liberals	1,741,860	1,741,860
Progressives	39,993	100,776
Lib-Prog.	59,155	59,155
Labor	45,302	49,792
Independent	49,355	18,306
U.P.A.	69,924	69,924
Farmer	22,766	None
Communist	5,638	None

The 1930 figures do not include rejected ballots, which amounted to 16,564 in the 1926 figures, but which are not yet available in the last returns.

DIVERS SEEK MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN SUNKEN SHIPS

Brest, France, Sept. 5.—Italian divers to-day found a safe in the hull of the sunken Peninsular and Oriental liner Egypt and brought it to the deck of the salvage steamer Artiglio to search it for treasure and ship's papers showing the nature and placing of the cargo in the holds.

The safe, said to have been the captain's, was supposed to contain banknotes and information which would lead the seekers to lost treasure running to several million dollars to a definite point in their hunt.

The receptacle was to be opened in the presence of representatives of the insurance and salvage companies.

The hull of the Egypt, sunk in a collision in 1922, lies in about 400 feet of water.

New U.S. Minister Becomes Acquainted With Ottawa

The first United States diplomat to journey by air to a foreign post, Harold MacNider, new United States Minister to Canada, is shown above with Mrs. MacNider in a picture taken just after they had landed in Ottawa a few days ago from Bolling Field, Washington. Their pilot was Capt. Ira C. Eaker, well-known United States army aviator, who flew their plane despite a broken ankle sustained in a parachute jump the week before. He is pictured at the right as he moved on crutches on the air field.

ARGENTINA TO HAVE NEW PRESIDENT

Buenos Aires, Sept. 5.—President Yrigoyen of Argentina retired from office to-day.

The Argentine capital has been under heavy military guard for a week and rumors had been frequent that the President would resign.

A state of siege was declared in the capital.

SMALLER LIQUOR PROFITS MENACE SAANICH INCOME

Municipal Council Told 1930 Income Will Likely Be $4,500 Less Than Estimates

Tax Sales Are Very Encouraging; Subscribe to Blakeburn Relief Fund

Unless Saanich's share of the provincial liquor profits during the second half of 1930 shows a marked improvement over the sum received for the first six months of the year, the income of the municipality will be $4,500 less than the figure set in the annual estimates. This is the situation faced by the Saanich council at its meeting yesterday.

The estimates anticipated a slight increase in the liquor profits. Income for 1930, but the sum received at the end of last June was decidedly disappointing, and there does not seem to be much prospect of a pick-up at this date. There thus would seem to be some danger of a rise in the Saanich tax rate next year.

It was decided to subscribe $100 to the Blakeburn relief fund and $25 to the S.P.C.A. Cheques for these amounts will be forwarded immediately.

In spite of the fact that most of the available good property has been disposed of at tax sales, yesterday's land sale was the most successful since the sale were inaugurated, officials declared. There were eighty-seven parcels of land left over from Wednesday and five of these, valued at $500, were disposed of. The corporation this year took $5,000, the smallest amount it has been left with in years. This total compares with the $7,637 figure it was compelled to take over last year.

This information, given to the civic finance committee by City Comptroller A. J. Pilkington, will be placed immediately before Dominion and provincial authorities, with a request that action be taken as soon as possible to remove some of the financial load from the shoulders of Vancouver taxpayers.

In making his report to the committee, Mr. Pilkington warned the aldermen $40,000 was the very lowest estimate of the expected deficit. Doubtless, he said, it would be much more unless substantial assistance should be forthcoming from the two governments.

COUNCIL MEMBERS FAVOR FORT STREET WIDENING, DESPITE BEATING BY-LAW

Placed in the position of having already secured part of the land necessary for the scheme and then defeating the bill for expropriation of the remainder, the City Council now faces a difficult question in regard to the Fort Street widening project.

Just what action will be taken on the by-law at the next meeting of the council is a matter of conjecture.

"In my opinion the Fort Street by-law was legally defeated, and the only way in which it can come under the official business of the council is by bringing in an entirely new by-law," Mayor Anson declared.

On the minutes of the meeting, however, the by-law is laid over for consideration in its second stage.

The whole question at issue is the method of dealing with the improvement of the street. Many of the project itself. Half the council favor seeking the vote of the public on whether expropriation of the lands should be carried out. The other half, supporting the Mayor in his belief that the council already has a mandate from the ratepayers to carry out their business, feel the expropriation should be done by the council without a referendum.

EXPEDITION TO ANDREE ISLAND URGED

Explorer Horn Says Body of Third Man of Polar Party May Be Found There

Associated Press and Canadian Press Tromsø, Norway, Sept. 5.—The story of the Andree balloon expedition, it is understood, is legible in the explorer's notes up to September 5. It is said there is writing in Andree's log after that date, but it is illegible.

The condition of the diary after September 5 is such that it may be impossible, therefore, to follow the story of the fate of the expedition as told by its leader himself beyond that date.

It would seem the three men arrived on White Island September 5 (presumably 1897) after having battled their way across the ice since mid-July, when their balloon met disaster on the attempted flight to the North Pole.

EXPEDITION PROPOSED

Dr. Gunnar Horn to-day proposed a Swedish expedition be sent to White Island next summer to look for further evidences of the Andree expedition.

Dr. Horn said it was possible the body of Knut Frankel would be found there, buried in the ice. Many of the things the Horn party found were dug up from a depth of eighteen inches or more. It is considered possible the body of Frankel lies farther down in the ice.

The bodies of Andree and Nils Strindberg were found and brought here by Dr. Horn's ship, the sealer Bratvaag.

COSTE PLANE MAKES TRIP TO LOUISVILLE, KY.

Two French Fliers on Way to New York From Texas

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 5.—Capt. Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, French air voyagers, pointed their scarlet Sesquiplane, the Question Mark, toward Louisville, Ky., to-day, after completing a one-stop Paris-New York-Dallas flight yesterday.

The travel-weary Frenchmen, who started their historic ocean-spanning flight at Le Bourget field, Paris, Monday, said they would stop overnight at Louisville and continue Saturday to New York to be in the east for a week-end luncheon engagement with President Hoover.

The flight from New York to Dallas, ended yesterday at 5:29 p.m., after eleven hours and thirty-four minutes in the air, made the French Atlantic conquerors eligible for a purse of $25,000 offered by Col. William Easterwood, Dallas millionaire.

Colonel Easterwood, in a long distance telephone conversation with The Dallas Morning News said he would fly from London to Paris immediately to make arrangements with the French Air Ministry for presentation of the purse, either in Paris, New York or Dallas.

FIRST WON

Col. Easterwood, a chewing gum manufacturer with a penchant for offering prizes for aviation pioneering at different times, hung up several awards for premier flying feats, but this is the first he has been called on to pay.

When Coste and Bellonte landed here yesterday afternoon they received a wild greeting from thousands of Texans. A great crowd gathered at Love Field gave the Frenchmen a vociferous reception.

GANDHI IS FOR THE RIGHT OF SECESSION

Demand For Government Responsible Only to India's People Ended Negotiations

Details of Discussions With Government Spokesmen Are Now Made Public

Poona, India, Sept. 5.—A complete national government for India, responsible only to the people of India, and the right to secede at any time from the British Empire were the demands of Mahatma Gandhi on which the peace negotiations between the British Government and the civil disobedience leaders broke down.

This was the price demanded by Gandhi and the Pandits Motilal and Jawaharlal Nehru, Congress party leaders, in exchange for calling off the civil disobedience campaign that has wracked India since last March.

Refusal of Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, to accept it, was announced to Gandhi in the Yeroda prison by Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. Jayakar, intermediaries.

The peace efforts thereupon ended in complete failure and presumably the civil disobedience campaign will be actively resumed.

Resumption of the violent clashes between police and volunteers and of the political bitterness that divided Indians against Indians and Europeans against Nationalists is indicated by an announcement of Gandhi's terms and their rejection.

The civil disobedience campaign during the recent rainy season was virtually in abeyance. All India had been watching the negotiations between the Government and Gandhi in the hope that a better spirit would be developed for the forthcoming London round-table conference.

GANDHI WEEK

Bombay, India, Sept. 5.—The All-India National Congress to-day inaugurated a "Gandhi week" by staging an illicit salt demonstration on Chhatrapati Sagar, thousands of people participated.

U.S. Tariff Turns Argentine Trade To This Country

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—Canadian ships sailing from Canadian ports should carry Canadian goods to Argentina, according to Louis J. Skinitz, official trade delegate to Canada of the Argentine Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Skinitz is making a tour of the west and was greatly surprised to find sixty-five per cent of the Canadian exports to Argentina go out through United States ports.

"The prohibitive tariff the United States has raised against certain products from the Argentine is turning trade from that republic to Canada," Mr. Skinitz said.

U.S. DIRIGIBLE LOS ANGELES IS IN TROUBLE

Herkimer, N.Y., Sept. 5.—The United States navy dirigible Los Angeles, passing over here, appeared in trouble. It swung constantly from east to south and back to its eastward course.

Reports from points to the west over which the big bag had previously passed indicated trouble was being experienced with the ship's rudder.

CERTIFICATES OF CITIZENS CANCELLED

Ottawa Having Courts Strike Off Naturalization Papers Fraudulently Obtained

British Consular Agents in Europe Get Trace of Bogus Citizens of Canada

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Action is being taken by the Department of the Secretary of State to cancel a number of naturalization certificates fraudulently obtained by aliens. The distribution of these certificates has not been widespread, according to high officers of the department to-day, and the fact has been known for some time to the police. Already a number of prosecutions have been instituted against offenders.

Reports to the effect that these certificates were obtained in Europe are incorrect, it is stated. What happened was that in various European countries the British consular agents were able to "pick up" a number of them, principally by reason of the fact that the aliens possessing them had returned to their native country and had forfeited them under the clause which makes a naturalization certificate null if its owner resides away from Canada for seven years.

The methods adopted to secure the certificates fraudulently from the department have been many and ingenious. As provided by law an inquiry will be made by the department regarding each holder of such a certificate.

DEFENCE FORCE AT CHINA CITY ROUTS REDS

Part of City of Shashi, Hupeh Province, Burned By Communists

Shanghai, Sept. 5.—Fragmentary dispatches to-day from Shashi, Hupeh province, said 3,000 Reds had attacked that Yangtze River city, causing a panic among the natives.

Defence forces stoutly resisted the attack, the advice said, driving the communists away after they had burned and looted a portion of the city.

A few foreigners there, including four from the United States, took refuge aboard a Japanese gunboat.

The Nationalist Government to-night asserted its anti-Red forces in Hunan province had inflicted a crushing blow on the communists in the southern environs of Changsha, killing 10,000.

Foreign advisers, however, failed to support the Nationalist claim, but said another sharp clash had occurred south of the Hunan city with small casualties on either side.

FINANCE PLANS FOR AUSTRALIA

Ex-Premier Says Bank of England Expert's Views Not Australian People's

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters Sydney, Aus., Sept. 5.—Former Premier W. M. Hughes said today that the bank of Australia from 1915 till 1923, takes strong issue with the advice given the Commonwealth in its present financial position by Sir Otto Neimeyer, Bank of England expert.

Writing in The Daily Guardian, Mr. Hughes condemns Sir Otto's policy as "a financial disaster" and says he designed to stampede us into a pound where the financial interests which he represents wants to see us. It is a plot to make us concentrate on the cheapest possible production of raw materials for British industry so Great Britain may be able to compete in the markets of the world.

HUGHES SCORES

Mr. Hughes praised in high terms the case set up by Sir Otto Neimeyer, although he agreed with the other Canadians that the commissioner had neglected to mention two strong points. The first is that Sir Otto's views are steadily increasing in their fishing efficiency and if this continues will soon be taking a larger percentage of sockeyes.

CLIMATE MEANS HAPPINESS; Lon Chaney's Life Story; Plateau Where Goblins Play

Lon Chaney, the greatest character actor of the screen, died recently. The fascinating story of his life, his rise to fame and fortune, will be published by The Victoria Daily Times. The first installment will appear as a feature of the Magazine Section of The Times to-morrow.

Mill Bay is where climate means happiness, and a full-page illustrated article in the Saturday Magazine Section will tell of that area and the work being accomplished at the Solarium there for crippled children.

Robert Connell, the Island naturalist, has written a special article on his recent explorations around the famed Hidden Plateau in the northern part of this Island. He has found it to be a goblin's playground.

Other features of the Saturday Magazine Section to-morrow will include: Broadway hails the return of stars from the movies, as an aid to the stage.

Connell on the Monarch Oak, patriarch of trees.

NEW BASE WILL CUT AIR TIME TO VANCOUVER

Alaska-Washington Planes
Will Have New Landing
Home Nearer City

California-Victoria Service
Popular During July and August

Planes of the Alaska Washington Airways of B.C. flying between Victoria and Vancouver will soon be able to land virtually in the heart of Vancouver, according to information received by W. Courtney, Victoria manager, this morning.

Mr. Courtney has been advised by H. W. Frith, chief engineer of the Vancouver Harbor Commissioners that the latter has been instructed to proceed with detailed plans covering the proposed layout for a base fronting the Hastings Mill property on Dunlevy Street, which is close to where the burned C.N.R. dock stood.

The new base will take the place of the present one on Lulu Island and will be but a five-minute run over the Burrard Street Bridge to the heart of Vancouver. It will make it possible to leave Victoria and arrive in the centre of Vancouver in less than half an hour, CALIFORNIA TO VICTORIA.

Further information on air travel development was received by the Chamber of Commerce this morning. The Alaska Washington Airways and Pacific Air Transport have completed arrangements whereby it is possible to leave Victoria at 8:30 in the afternoon and arrive in California very early the following morning. It is also possible to continue on the Pacific Air Transport plane to Mexico, arriving at Acapulco at 11 a.m. the same day.

The chamber is advised that the Alaska Washington Airways have started a publicity campaign in California, calling attention to the fact that a person may board a plane early in the evening and arrive in Victoria shortly after noon the following day. One hundred and thirty-two through passengers were booked to Victoria and Vancouver during July and August.

True Replica Of Temple Urged On Archaeologists

An appeal to those interested in archaeology to use their influence to have an actual replica of the Mayan Temple of the Sun at Palenque, Mexico, used in the design of the new Tribute to the Americas Building at Sacramento in the construction of which Canada has a share, was made today by D. R. Bremner, retired Mexican entrepreneur and student of Mayan planet lore. He said that the picture of the building as published by The Victoria Times last Friday showed it was only a caricature of the original.

There are sixty-five miles of Mayan temple ruins along the Michol River, Chiapas, State of Guatemala. Mr. Bremner said, "Each temple was built on the top of pyramids, 125 feet high, with mystic underground tunnels running through their bases. I was there at the Palenque Temple of the Sun when the great plague, of which the Sacramento one will purport to be a copy, was taken down under the personal direction of the Minister of Education and shipped to the museum at Mexico City where it is preserved. Instead of the model of the world as in the proposed Sacramento building, the original is covered with the raised figures representing humility, conquest, supplication and other human activities, all executed by mystic artists of the strange past of this race. The hieroglyphics are so highly mystical that modern man has not yet been able to decipher them. They are much more difficult and mystical than the hieroglyphics in Egypt, which scholars have been able to interpret completely."

DROVE CAR AT 70 MILES ALONG BEACH

A. C. Lovekin of Riverside,
Cal., Has Extensive Holdings
on West Coast

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, Sept. 5.—A. C. Lovekin, Mrs. Lovekin and their daughter, Mrs. John Dunaway, of Riverside, Cal., have just returned from a trip up the West Coast and Long Beach.

Mr. Lovekin is an annual visitor to British Columbia, and is a large property holder in this district. This season his party traveled by car from California to Spruce Lake, and after a couple of weeks spent at Klito Lodge and at Lovekin's Point the car was placed aboard the Ss. Princess Maquinna at Port Alberni, driven off at Uclulet and over the new road to Long Beach, thence along the long stretch of hard sand for ten miles to Mr. Lovekin's holdings, the property formerly farmed by the late Charles T. Harvey.

Mr. Lovekin and his daughter expressed great delight at being able to drive his car at a speed of seventy miles an hour on the beach. It is believed this is the heaviest car yet driven on the beach, but it left no impression on the sand. An interesting trip was made by canoe into Kennedy Lake, and Mr. Lovekin's collection of photos made there shows scenes of grandeur and beauty in this little known locality.

Potato Controller Must Himself Pay Off Illegal Action

Vancouver, Sept. 5.—Refusing an application of Colonel A. W. McLellan, late chairman of the Mainland Potato Committee of Direction for a writ of prohibition to restrain Tom Yee, wholesale fruit and vegetable dealer, Keefer Street, from collecting $380 costs, Justice Fisher in Supreme Court permitted the Chinese wholesaler to sue for a writ of execution against Colonel McLellan for recovery of the money.

When Tom Yee refused to pay levies on potatoes which he marketed in the city, the committee sued him and was awarded judgment by Judge Ruggles in country court for $650. This judgment was set aside by the Court of Appeal on the Chinaman's appeal, and he was allowed his costs which have since been taxed and total $380.

The interior tree, fruit and vegetable committee refused to pay the bill of costs which had been incurred by its subsidiary, the Mainland Potato Committee. The latter has not functioned since April last.

In an attempt to collect the $380, Tom Yee executed a writ of execution against Colonel McLellan, who was sole member of the Mainland Potato Committee. Judge Howay in country court decided that a writ of execution lay against the chairman, and Justice Fisher likewise, by refusing a writ of prohibition, has upheld the proceedings.

BIG ENGINE IN RAIL SMASH IS TO BE RAISED

Seattle, Sept. 5.—Cause of the train wreck at Index, Wash., which cost the life of an engineer and serious injury to a fireman, will not be determined until the overturned locomotive is raised, according to Great Northern officials here. This was delayed while wrecking crews were clearing the tracks. Arrival here of the westbound Oriental Limited, the Empire Builder and a mail train was delayed until late this morning.

A broken coupling was believed the reason why one engine of train No. 28, Chicago bound, broke loose on a curve near Index and the second engine overturned in a canyon. An express car was demolished and two mail cars were derailed. The last car of seven was pulled by the two engines, a sleeper to Wenatchee, carrying several passengers, was not derailed.

Engineer Homer C. Applegate of Seattle was pinned under the overturned engine. He, fireman, William J. Lavigne, also a Seattle man, was severely scalded, but is expected to recover. The engineer and fireman of the last engine and all others on the train escaped injury.

BANK CHANGE IS ADVOCATED IN BRITAIN

Trades Union Congress Would
Broaden Nation's Financing

Canadian Press
London, Sept. 5.—A resolution urging the MacDonald Government to take from the Bank of England the power to finance national requirements on the nation's credit power was endorsed yesterday evening by delegates attending the convention of the British Trades Union Congress. The resolution was introduced by J. Bromley, Labor member of Parliament for Barrow-in-Furness.

In advocating approval of the resolution Mr. Bromley declared that so long as the present banking control of the country's industries existed, whether they had protection or free trade, the workers would be like squirrels in a rotating cage—they could go around as hard as they liked but the bankers would keep the key of the cage. He added the Bank of England was a private concern with private interests and an exceedingly costly institution to this country.

Mr. Bromley believed the bankers would be delighted with the resolution the Congress passed last Tuesday dealing with empire trade.

FIRE DESTROYS OLD BREWERY AT NEW-YORK

Building Erected on Staten Island Seventy-five Years Ago Is Ruined

New York, Sept. 5.—The Rubsam and Hornmann Brewery at Stapleton, Staten Island, formerly one of the largest breweries in the eastern United States, was destroyed by fire last night at a loss estimated by the fire department at $1,500,000. It was a seventy-story structure covering an acre and was built seventy-five years ago.

The fire started in a pile of empty boxes outside the packing department.

SWEDEN IS TO OWN DIARIES OF ANDREE PARTY

Stockholm, Sept. 5.—The question as to ownership of the Salomon August Andree diaries, found last month on the body of the explorer who perished on White Island thirty-three years ago, presents a problem which is puzzling many persons.

Since Andree died in 1897 and the ownership of written or printed matter ceases in Sweden thirty years after the author's death, it is held doubtful whether the relatives of the three men who went on the expedition will be able to claim the books. They probably will be placed in the hands of the Swedish government, it is said.

NEW SEARCH FOR LOST AVIATORS

St. Felicien, Que., Sept. 5.—A check-up of rumors that Indians knew approximately where the airplane piloted by Cannon and Liotte, aviators, crashed last fall in the hinterland of Lake St. John will be made by Captain Whitehall and Captain Stirling, who flew here from Montreal for the purpose.

The two Curtiss-Reid airmen left St. Felicien last fall to fly stores to the mining district at Chibougamu and disappeared. Intensive search during the fall and winter failed to reveal any clue to their whereabouts.

FOSTER SPEAKS OF THE WEST'S GREAT GROWTH

Sir George, Celebrating 83rd Birthday, Talks of Canada's Advance

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The tremendous advance Canada has made since Confederation and the fact that even now those who are most intimately associated with the development of the Dominion have hardly penetrated to a complete realization of Canada's great fortune are the two outstanding elements which impress Sir George Foster, veteran statesman and administrator, most forcibly as he enters his eighty-fourth year.

Born eighty-three years ago Wednesday, Sir George, who had just returned from a three-months' holiday in British Columbia, spent his birthday at home, the recipient of many congratulatory messages.

In spite of his four-score years, Senator Foster continues to enjoy excellent health, and has lost little of the vigor which characterized him in the days when he fought many a doubtful campaign and broke many a lance in the political lists.

PRAIRIE CHANGES

"The contrast noted," declared the veteran statesman, "is the fact that in western Canada particularly we have a country of homes. When I traveled across the Dominion many years ago, one acclaimed with joy the sight of farm shacks, some ten, fifty and even 100 miles distant from their neighbors. 'In a sense the people who inhabited those plains were nomads, but now one sees great cities and settled farming districts.'"

PATENT ACT OF CANADA IS TO BE AMENDED

Committee Named to Prepare Recommendations Parliament Will Consider

Changes Also to Be Made in Trade Marks Act of Dominion

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Revision of the Patent Act and the Trade Marks and Design Act is being undertaken for submission to Parliament at its next regular session early in 1931. Hon. A. K. Maclean, president of the Exchequer Court of Canada, will be chairman of the advisory committee which will carry out the work. Official announcement to this effect was made to-day.

With the approval of Premier R. B. Bennett, the Secretary of State, Hon. C. H. Caban, requested Mr. Justice Maclean to prepare a revision of the acts. Mr. Justice Maclean consented to act and has recommended that the committee consist of the following: R. S. Smart, C. M. Bugar, W. D. Herdridge, Ottawa barristers; H. Gerin La-Jole of the Quebec bar; Arthur Anglin, Toronto barrister; Herbert Dennison, president, and A. E. McRae, secretary of the Patent Solicitors' Association; Charles W. Taylor, patent solicitor of Montreal; Dr. T. L. Richardson, commissioner of patents and trademarks; and a representative to be appointed by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

It is expected these men will cordially co-operate in revising these two statutes so as to make their provisions generally acceptable to all interests directly concerned in their efficient administration.

3,000 MARCH IN PROTEST IN BUENOS AYRES

Students Parade in Demonstration Against Regime of President Yrigoyen

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 5.—Three thousand students began marching up the Avenida Mayo to-day toward the Plaza Mayo, where government house is located. The demonstration was pacific, but observers feared there would be rioting if the police interfered.

One person was killed and many persons were wounded in shooting late last night on the Avenida Mayo in Buenos Ayres, when thousands of students, demonstrating against President Yrigoyen, clashed with police. The students formed without police permission, and began to march through the principal thoroughfares toward government house. The police charged three times to break up the demonstration, but some students broke through the barrier and reached the Plaza. Then shots were fired. After a few moments the students returned to the Plaza carrying aloft handkerchiefs soaked in the blood of their companions who had fallen and shouting "Assassins."

When they reached the Plaza a new demonstration was headed by Dr. Alfredo Palacios, dean of the law school of the University of Buenos Ayres.

SPARK TEST MAY BRING COAL BACK

A. O. Adams, field engineer, representing the Continental Coal Company of Seattle, who are distributors of the device, was very enthusiastic over its merits to The Times this morning.

"It was invented by M. F. Brown, western fuel supervisor of the Northern Pacific Railway," he said, "and there are now more than 200 N.P. locomotives equipped with it, and there has not been a single fire along their right of way this year. Surely that is a pretty good record. The Spokane International Railway and the Pacific Coast line, both operating in country where the fire hazard is ordinarily very high, have had the same result. 'We have tried to raise sparks from engines equipped with the spark arrester. We have fed them with the sparkiest kind of lignite coal. We have stoked the fires for all we were worth, even raked the coals, and not one spark have we been able to obtain,' he exclaimed. 'This invention is past the experimental stage; it is a proven success. We are receiving inquiries from railroads all over the country.'"

STRIKE BRINGS MARTIAL LAW IN SPAIN TOWN

Renteria, Spain, Sept. 5.—Virtual martial law was declared here to-day and all business houses closed after rioting which broke out in the course of a general strike unexpectedly proclaimed at noon.

More than a hundred civil guards were patrolling the streets and rifle shots were fired in the air to frighten the mob. Many were injured, including some women, but no deaths had been reported early this afternoon.

BILLS DRAFTED FOR SESSION AT OTTAWA

Bennett Cabinet Putting the Finishing Touches on Measures to Be Debated

Speaker-designate G. Black To-day Busy at His Pre-session Tasks

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Cabinet sessions were resumed to-day with the government placing the finishing touches on its legislative programme to be presented at the opening of the special session on Monday. There was no cabinet meeting yesterday for the first time in several days and that was taken to mean the government's proposed measures had been definitely decided on and were in the final process of preparation.

SPEAKER IS BUSY

George Black, member-elect for the Yukon, designed as Speaker of the House of Commons, took over his outside duties yesterday, although his actual election to the position will not be made until Monday. The Speaker of the Commons might be termed the commandant of Parliament Hill. He has many duties apart from presiding over the Commons and the next few days will be occupied with allocating members their rooms and such other duties, although he has not been elected formally to the position. Mr. Black assumed these duties yesterday and till the opening day he will be a very busy man.

MINISTERS' TASKS

But Mr. Black is not the only busy man on Parliament Hill. The whole cabinet, individually and collectively, is busy. In addition to the meeting to-day, it is quite possible there will be another to-morrow. Besides attending the council table, each minister must preside over his own department, take care of his constituents and, in some cases, be a lobbyist in the House. It is probable that with afternoon and night sittings of the cabinet to-day, similar sessions will be held to-morrow, making the position of the ministers just that much more trying.

STATEMENT AWAITED

The Premier will announce the government's plans for the unemployment situation. This will be done from the floor of the House very early in the session, possibly Monday afternoon or Tuesday. The Government's exact proposals, of course, are unknown outside the cabinet, but it is quite certain legislation providing work on undertakings such as a national highway will be laid before the House. This would be aimed at alleviating unemployment during the coming fall and winter. It is expected the government also will ask the House to amend the tariff rates affecting agricultural and manufactured products.

TROPIC STORM EASES AS IT MOVES SOUTH

Centre of West Indies Disturbance Near Cuba To-day, Say Observers

Washington, D.C., Sept. 5.—The U.S. Weather Bureau this forenoon issued the following storm warning: "Tropical disturbance apparently central this morning over or near the north central coast of Cuba, with greatly diminished intensity. No strong winds being reported."

"This disturbance will likely continue moving west-north-westward the next twenty-four to thirty-six hours without damaging winds."

Charles L. Mitchell, weather forecaster, said that if the hurricane should hit Florida at all, it probably would not be damaging.

"But in late summer and early autumn, the doldrums move near to the Cape Verde Islands and the defective force is quite sufficient to indicate a cyclonic circulation," Mitchell said.

"Then, by some so-called 'trigger action' which is not thoroughly understood, a cyclonic circulation is set up. 'Once started, the storms gain violence, and the usual West Indies disturbance moves slightly north and east to west at twelve to fourteen miles an hour. It is probable in some tornados the wind attains a velocity of 300 to 400 miles an hour over an exceedingly small area, while the highest wind reported in a hurricane was that which struck Porto Rico in 1928 with an estimated velocity of about 200 miles an hour.'"

There is an area called the doldrums over the Atlantic Ocean north of the Equator, between South America and Africa, that moves northward and southward with the sun, and in that belt there is a slight depression of the barometer, the winds are light and variable as a rule.

MOVEMENT BRINGS CHANGE "When the doldrums are near the Equator, nothing happens, because the

Fire Truck Makes Fruitless Journey

Special to The Times
Cumberland, Sept. 5.—Returning to his home on the Royston Road on Sunday morning just this side of Boulder, a car belonging to George Brown took fire and was completely destroyed. As far as can be ascertained a passing motorist informed a fireman, who took an extinguisher out to the scene, out found it insufficient. Fearing that the burning car would start a bushfire, the fireman returned and took out the chemical truck. The fire was put out, but the car was a complete loss.

BREAD AND A PIOUS HOPE

ACCORDING TO THE COMBINES INVESTIGATION branch of the Dominion government, the price of bread since January, 1929, has increased in twelve Canadian cities and the price of flour in fourteen cities. For this, officials of the department say, there is no justification. The dispatch from Ottawa which conveyed this information to the public also included an intimation that as yet it is not the intention of the Minister of Labor, Senator Gideon Robertson, to launch a formal investigation under the Combines Investigation Act. On the contrary, he looks for a lowering in the price of bread by voluntary action on the part of some baking concerns.

Since The Times first alluded to the subject of the price of bread in Canada, in comparison with the price of bread in Great Britain, the public in many parts of this country has been waiting for an adequate explanation of why only sixteen ounces of bread can be bought in Canada—where the wheat is grown—for nine or ten cents, while about eighteen cents will purchase sixty-four ounces in most parts of the United Kingdom. It does not look as if the new Minister of Labor at Ottawa intends to bother himself very much about the matter. Twice within two weeks he has expressed the pious hope that the price of bread will come down without any interference by the government. The wage earner hopes so, too, but he is rather sceptical about it.

Meanwhile, in a booklet entitled "Wheat, the Riddle of Markets," written by Charles W. Peterson, editor of The Farm and Ranch Review, we are given some interesting information about the distribution of the consumer's price of a pound of bread. This is the table:

Item	Cents Per Lb.	Per Cent of Retail Price
Producer of wheat	13.45c	13.40%
Country elevator	1.145c	0.79%
Transportation and terminal agencies for wheat	0.278c	3.25%
Flour miller	0.406c	4.75%
Transportation agencies for flour	0.263c	3.08%
Wholesale baker	5.110c	59.77%
Retail grocer	1.278c	14.96%
Total	8.540c	100.00%

Mr. Peterson is a keen student of agricultural problems and is a wheat grower on a large scale. His opinion on this question, therefore, is an authoritative one. The figures he has used cover a two-year average, a period in which bread prices were slightly higher, and deal with what the farmer actually receives for his wheat, not the nominal market price. "These," we are told, "are figures to shoot at." It is in order, of course, for the bakers to explain them if they think they do not represent the correct analysis.

WHEN BIG SHOTS RULE

IN THE NORTHERN PART OF OHIO there is a very exclusive little village of some 270 inhabitants, nearly all of whom are millionaires. This village, like all others, has its own government; but this village is unique in that all of its elected officials are rich business men. The mayor, the councilmen and so on, are, in their private lives, high-pressure executives accustomed to large affairs, enmeshed in efficiency and bred to the orderly conduct of things. As a result, one would expect this village to have a city hall fairly reeking with good government.

However, a state examiner recently looked into affairs and reported sadly that such was not the case. He intimated that somehow these titans of the business world had found the task of running their own village a bit too much for them. The council had not met as often as it should, the mayor had failed to sign documents he should have signed, certain needed ordinances had failed of passage through oversight, and village funds had been spent without proper authority.

There was nothing improper, of course; no graft, no padded payrolls or anything of that kind. There was just a bit of governmental slovenliness, that was all. The village fathers were dozing at their posts. This is highly unimportant, of course, but it is rather interesting, and if one tried hard enough one probably could draw some sort of moral out of it. Every so often someone advances the idea that city, state and national governments would become, overnight, all that they ought to be if only their various posts could be manned by real business men. The business man has a passion for efficiency and accuracy. He likes to see every subordinate do a full day's work and he likes to see every dollar in expenditures bring back a dollar's worth of results. These wholly desirable things are not always visible in governmental affairs; hence, it is argued, the remedy is to fill the big jobs with business men and let them hop to it.

Perhaps it should work beautifully; but there are valid grounds for being sceptical. Executive talents that can be exercised admirably in a private office tend to go under a blight when they are transferred to a city hall or a legislature. The Ohio village mentioned above is a case in point.

As a matter of fact—to leave this diminutive village out of it—the defects we observe in government are generally the defects that are inherent in democracy itself. All along the line we get just the kind of government we deserve. Giving the jobs to the big shots of the business world will never help so long as we stick to our old habit of sitting on the sidelines and letting governmental organizations run themselves.

THE "FOOLISH FAT FORTIES"

AFTER STUDYING CONDITIONS IN Chicago, trying to find out why there is so much crime in that city, the Rev. Sam Steeg, a minister from Manila, has reached the conclusion that the "foolish fat forties" are responsible for what has earned such an unenviable reputation for that community. The younger generation seems to have been completely absorbed. But the Brooklyn Eagle does not propose to take the alliterative generalization seriously, and it doubts if there is any connection between avoirdupois and evil. It refers to the war years and the tendency for some time afterward to explain anything queer in human affairs by a shrug of the shoulders and: "It is the war."

As the Brooklyn newspaper very truly observes, however, the crop of misbehavior, if it amounted to a crop, must have sprung up among persons chiefly still on the young side of forty. "At that rate," we read further, "one should find the Godless, not among the forties, as the Chicago evangelist would have it, but among the late thirties. Persons of that age in these parts do not seem abnormally bad or foolish or stout. As for the youngsters, they enter adult life under fairly normal circumstances to-day, and certainly have no special pretext for cutting up." Those hundreds of highly-successful business men in Chicago who are in control of important institutions, many of whom are in their forties and not a few of them given to rotundity, will not take the Rev. Samuel seriously either. The ministerial gentleman from Manila should ask Ainge of Los Angeles for a few pointers on successful advertising.

MINIATURE GOLF

WHETHER MINIATURE GOLF HAS come to stay, or whether it is merely a passing fancy, time alone will tell. At present it is popular all over the continent, even small communities having been captured by the craze. A point to be remembered incidentally, is the fillip it has given to many kinds of business in many places. Concrete mixers have been grinding away until midnight and after; club manufacturers have been working extra shifts in order to satisfy the ever-increasing demand for putters; lively bidding for centrally-located vacant lots has stimulated, an otherwise dull real estate market—all these developments may be taken as evidence that what the non-golfer calls the latest fad has taken popular fancy. Strangely enough, however, non-golfers—that is to say, those who do not pursue the "elusive pill" for a distance of 6,000 yards or more—are to be found often in a majority on the miniature courses that now are dotting the whole of this country. Does it not seem reasonable to suggest that they will use this fascinating innovation as an introduction to the more "elongated" pastime?

Considered from the point of view of dollars and cents, it is interesting to note that the United States Department of Commerce puts the number of these "Tom Thumb" courses in the neighboring republic at 25,000, representing an investment of $125,000,000. It also points out that many thousands more are being built, while lumber manufacturers think that before the game in this form goes "stale" at least $50,000,000 worth of lumber will be bought for the building of new courses and for the housing-in of courses already existing.

We are told that a well-known manufacturer of lighting equipment, who produced a special flood-lighting unit for these courses, started with a production of 1,000 per year and sold that many in the first month. He is now busy trying to catch up with his orders. Here we get some indication of what there is in the business at present and what it may develop into if the craze does not wane.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE TAX ON BUTTER

The Manitoba Free Press

One of the major developments of the election campaign, in the judgment of The Financial Post, is "the commitment of the farmers to a protective policy, as shown by the vote for an import tax on butter."

This is a justified inference. The farmers will get an import tax on butter. Mr. Bennett may put it up to a dollar a pound if he chooses; it will not, except possibly for a brief period of time, do anybody any good. And when a duty of 25, 30 or 35 per cent is put on agricultural implements, when tractors now free are heavily taxed, the farmers will be expected to accept the situation without protest.

Having got their duty on butter it is not for them so it will be argued to object to paying a tariff tax or its equivalent on most of their necessities of life.

THE AGRICULTURAL CRISIS

The Baltimore Sun

Since the situation which the wheat and cotton farmers face this year is, in large measure, the result not only of world conditions but of continuing domestic causes, there is no reason to believe that the agricultural emergency will pass in 1930. Indeed, there is every reason to expect that it will continue as a major national issue for some years, and particularly so since President Hoover, by signing the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill, has contributed notably toward that result.

A THOUGHT

My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.—Proverbs 1:10.
He that avoideth not small faults, by little and little falleth into greater.—Thomas A. Kempis.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

The Victoria Daily Times, September 5, 1905

Six stalwart members of the crew of the sealing vessel Carmichael arrived here shortly before noon to-day on the steamer Queen City. They left their vessel in Clayoquot and came to Victoria simply to secure their wages. On the same steamer on which the sextette arrived there also came from the sealer 365 skins, to which the men intend to lay claim.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Southerly winds, generally fair and cooler.

Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, who with his wife and daughter, is touring the Yukon, was tendered a reception at White Horse on August 22.

The hand of death removed another of those sturdy pioneers, who so wisely and generously laid the foundation of this greatest of Canadian provinces, on Sunday evening, when Hon. Peter O'Reilly passed away, at his family residence at Point Ellice in his seventy-seventh year.

The steamer Venture arrived from Northern British Columbia Coast yesterday, after landing 4,000 cases of salmon at the Terminal City.

The R.M.S. Empress of China sailed for the Far East last evening, calling at the Outer Wharf as usual for mail and passengers. The ship has a fair size cargo and about 100 passengers.

Loose Ends

The Post Office Department listens to this column—and orders stickier stamps—A notable historical document is dug up—and a warning given.

By H.B.W.

NO LESS AN authority than the Post Office Department of Canada has been reading this column and finding the contents thereof distressing but true. You may recall, if you have a memory for historic things, that this column recently protested against the new Canadian postage stamps because they had a bad habit of falling off the place where they should remain. "To-day I received from Postmaster Gardiner, of Victoria, a courteous explanation of this national phenomenon, and it shows that the post office authorities have gone to some trouble to satisfy the questionings of this column."

FROM OTTAWA Mr. Gardiner has been informed by the financial superintendent of the Post Office Department that "trouble with the gum on these stamps is not with the quality of the gum, but with the quality of the paper." Tests made at the department show the quality to be satisfactory, but there is not enough of it on the stamps to serve the purpose. If you would be good enough to advise persons who complain in this respect to use the least possible moisture in making the stamps adhere to mail matter they will find a more satisfactory result. The matter was taken up with the manufacturers and a further issue of stamps printed with a greater quantity of adhesive so as to do away with complaints in this respect."

YOU SEE, therefore, that I have not lived in vain. To have moved the Post Office Department of Canada to put more mucilage on its stamps is a triumph which few statesmen have ever achieved. I shall await the new and stickier stamps with interest and some impatience. Meanwhile apparently the thing to do is to lick less, but the art of making the present stamps stick is likely to prove a difficult one to master. Only light lickens can be sure of having their stamps adhere with stamps attached. Heavy lickens will be out of luck until the new stamps are available, at which time light lickens will have to alter their entire technique.

SO FAR THAT is an eminently satisfactory outcome to this column's splendid crusade. But one objection to the present stamps will still remain on the front of them after their backs are turned. Putting more mucilage on the back and not altering the portrait of the King on the front, which has been mistaken for Bernard Shaw, the late Grand Duke Nicholas, and for one collector at least, for the former King Ferdinand. Indeed, the more the stamps are made to stick the more serious and extensive this affront to the Crown will become. The only thing a patriotic man can do is to send all his letters by air mail to avoid using this strange image.

AN OLD COUNTRY investigator has just unearthed a document of more historical value, of more significance in the development of our race than all the blue books and official statistics on file in the archives. It is the menu of a banquet held at the Royal Show in Manchester in 1890, and it is a piece of red satin, about three inches wide by nine deep, surrounded by a heavy fringe of gold lace. The lessons of that menu need no explanation from me, and I merely quote the bill of fare so that you may see how we have gone down hill since then.

THE VIRILE gentlemen who attended the Royal Show began with turtle and one other soup, followed by the hot entrees, lamb cutlets and chicken rissoles. Then came the cold entrees, consisting of chicken breasts "à la Belle Vue" (which I take to mean "near to look at" and doubtless easier still to eat) more cutlets, quail in aspic and paté de foie gras.

NOW THESE, you must understand, were mere preliminaries to starve off the first pangs of hunger and to introduce the first substantial nourishment of the banquet. The substantial nourishment consisted of the "Groses-Pieces," or large dishes. First of these was a boar's head with truffles, then salmon and eels, then gaithe and gelatine, then trout, then roast chicken, ham and pigeon pie. After this, what? Their appetites, the guests of 1890 started in earnest on roast capons and spring chickens as an introduction to the roast beef of Old England, which was counted upon to make up for the flimsy character of the preceding dishes.

HAVING SATISFIED themselves thus, our ancestors toby with a few fillets of sole, some lobster salad, crayfish "à la Russe" and prawns, which would fit into any odd corners still empty. The desserts were only a matter of form, and little time was wasted on them. There were four kinds of cakes and meringues and half a dozen different varieties of fruit salad, trifle and things of that sort. This light snack was washed down with cold champagne, claret, Burgundy, port, Madeira, charcuterie and curacao. After which the guests, no doubt, were carried home in the good old way, now the worse for a meal which would have rendered us moderns not worth carrying home at all.

THERE IS JUST room here for a little friendly warning to my fellow criminals. It may be useful to you, too, since you are likely to find yourself with a criminal record at any time. My warning, of course, is against driving more than fifteen miles an hour.

past schools. It was only yesterday that I recalled, just as I was about to drive past one of sixteen miles an hour, that school is back in session now and the old rule re-established. The summer holidays are over and the winter of our motoring discontent has already commenced. It will take some time for most of us to get used to it again, after the carefree days of the summer, when I could drive to town as twenty miles per hour and feel a gratifying sense of deviltry. But when you have a criminal record like mine you must be extra careful. And as these facts only occurred to me yesterday, I felt I must pass them on as soon as possible and perhaps save some innocent from a gaily fate in the Spanish police court.

$5,000,000 FIRE

NEAST END LONDON AREA

NEW REPAIRATIONS INQUIRY PLANNED FOR CANADIANS

2,000 Persons Driven From Homes; Firemen's Fight Watched By 100,000

London, Sept. 5.—Fire which started in a spice warehouse yesterday evening, damaged Wapping, London East End district, to the extent of about $5,000,000.

Three hundred firemen used ten miles of hose in fighting the blaze, which consumed a large tenement district and forced the evacuation of more than 2,000 persons from their homes there.

At midnight some of the seventy engines which had been summoned to fight the blaze were able to return to their stations but a large force of firemen remained on duty and continued a watch on the ruins, which is expected to smolder for days. At the height of the conflagration a crowd estimated at 100,000 stood outside the police cordon which was drawn around the affected area.

Dense smoke filled many East End streets, and the roadways ran with water, mingled with spices and cocoa beans from the blazing warehouse.

Big gasworks a quarter of a mile away were threatened by the flames, but firemen, wearing gas masks, were able to avert what would have been serious disaster.

ROOF FELL IN

The fire started in a big six-story warehouse packed with cocoa beans and spices. The smoke rose in thick clouds to a height of 300 feet. With a terrific crash the roof fell. Great sheets of flame burst upward.

When the 2,000 people were ordered to evacuate their homes nearby, hundreds were provided with gas masks and the scene was akin to a scene of war. The ruins were still smouldering today.

HOPE ANDREE RECORDS GIVE ENTIRE STORY

World Awaits Publication By Experts of Arctic Diary and Log Book

Copyright, 1930, and all rights reserved in North and South America and in Japan by The Associated Press.
Tromsø, Norway, Sept. 5.—The diary and log of Solomon August Andree, aeronautical polar explorer, brought back from White Island, where Andree had lain in an icy grave for thirty-three years, yesterday focused the interest of experts here examining the relics of his expedition.

These priceless notes are being guarded with extreme care by experts and their contents have not been divulged. Close observers, however, believe the various books will provide a dramatic and more or less complete history of the Andree expedition from the time the three explorers started the way aboard a balloon until Andree, as a sole survivor, leaned his poor, wrecked frame against an earthly band near his last stand and composed himself to die. As he died he tried to shield some of his records with his body so the world sometime might know the story of his adventure. It should be repeated that this is mere speculation, since the outside world has had nothing from Andree's records. However, observers feel at liberty to put two and two together and hazard a guess as to what may come.

NO WORDS WASTED

The records probably were written as concisely as possible without unnecessary details, partly because of frightful torture which the explorers were undergoing and partly to conserve their penicils.

It is believed Andree kept his tragic memoranda to the last. His notes may tell how disaster overtook the balloon aboard which the three were trying to fly across the North Pole and then describe a terrible march across churning icefields in bitter Arctic cold.

Three were for a time—Andree, Nils Strindberg and Knut Frankel—and then something happened. Perhaps exhaustion overtook him. Perhaps he fell through a hole in the ice into green waters which resulted in his death. It needs no diary to tell that Andree and Strindberg struggled on, dragging with them their heavy equipment which they finally came to White Island, where they died.

STORY OF ARRIVAL

Andree's notes may tell when they arrived at White Island, and may reveal how long they were able to cling to life after their arrival there. They may not have been there long, because no proper camp had been prepared. They may have been too exhausted and numbed.

Experts already have decided that Strindberg died first and that Andree performed the last burial-rites for his comrade. What effort that performance cost Andree may never be learned from the diary.

Certainly the diary will not mention Andree's death, but experts have already deduced how he died. Alone in that desolate waste of ice, exhausted by exertion during the long march to White Island, and bitten to the bone by life-destroying winds which howled down the mountains of ice, he finally braced himself in a vain effort to hold on. He could find and prepared to die.

DIED A HERO

Beside him was an oil stove with which he still continued to fight the cold, and his carbine to keep cool. He was away from his well-known body. He wrapped two of his notebooks in a shirt and placed them next to the skin of his back. He then braced himself against the little hill, his body protecting his records. He died like a hero, at a near a standing position as he could maintain, battling to the last against his certain fate.

The amount of the new claims is believed to total about $600,000. Following the war a large number of Canadian civilians who had suffered losses as a result of enemy action, filed claims in Ottawa. The bulk of these were for the loss of fishing vessels which had been destroyed along the Atlantic Coast by enemy submarines or otherwise. Other claims were for injuries to person and property suffered when passenger and merchant ships were sunk by the enemy at sea. Provision for the payment of these claims was made in treaties with Germany and other countries who had been at war with Great Britain. The claims registered with the Department of State and it is expected a new commissioner will shortly be chosen by the government to adjudicate these cases.

In addition to the new claims a number of old claims remain undecided owing to lack of evidence and it is believed some of these can now be settled also.

Victoria Golfers Will Seek B.C. Open Championship Next Week

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THE DOMINION of Canada Football Association has felt the influence of that omnipresent spirit which has pervaded most of the athletic organizations of the Dominion—the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. But unlike some other sport organizations, it has not been greatly troubled.

However, at its general meeting here this week, the D.F.A. considered as some length the advisability of sending a delegate to the A.A.U. of C's annual meeting. The proposal after much discussion was dropped. But the soccer men are still willing to meet the amateur body half way, providing they, the football association received an invitation to send a representative.

If the D.F.A. made an affiliation with the A.A.U. of C what would happen during the tour of old country professional football teams in Canada, amateur players of the Dominion playing against the visiting pros? Intermingling of pros and amateurs is strictly against the rules of A.A.U. It would take a lot of ironing out. It hardly seems possible that the grass-roots amateur heads would ever sanction such procedure if the footballers were under the rule of the A.A.U. As they so often say, "look forward to seeing and playing against such fine clubs as are sent out from the British Isles."

Football in Canada has flourished without any assistance from the A.A.U. of C. for a great many years. The D.F.A. has found no trouble in handling football. It might be inviting trouble if the association bound itself to the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Once again the local amateur baseball champions have stacked up against Vancouver and once again they have simply proven they are not in the same class as the Mainland ball tossers. In the recent series between the Sons of Canada and Vancouver Pioneers, the superiority of the Mainlanders was perhaps more noticeable than in previous seasons. When we say that, the 24-0 score registered in Vancouver, most in our thoughts. And then again, the Sons were permitted to strengthen their regular team with four players from other clubs in the Victoria league. This made a difference, but the Mainlanders were still too powerful.

Victoria fans were given an added laugh during the game here Wednesday evening. Halfway through the game a chap by the name of George Hagen went in to pitch for the Pioneers. He was a great fust, was raised regarding his amateur standing and it was impossible to get an amateur card for him. However, he went to Vancouver and started playing there a few days after his arrival. How come? local fans ask. It must be some time ago the provincial branch of A.A.U. of C. commenced to tell the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Union that they didn't like the way things were handled they could take a jump in the lake, or words to such effect.

ROSEBUDS WIN TITLE SERIES

Capture Junior Baseball League Championship By 6 to 3 Win Over Nippons

Doubling the score of their opponents in five innings of fast play, the Rosebuds captured the Junior Baseball League championship, defeating the Nippons 6 to 3 at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday evening. Gordie Jones, pitching for the winners, turned in a stellar performance and played a major part in their victory. The match was the fourth and final game of the play-off series, and was also Jones' second victory over the Japanese. In the third game he held them to three runs, while his team mates scored five.

Walter Scott, on the receiving end of the battery, played well, as did the rest of the Rosebuds, both in the field and at the plate.

Ashikawa hurried for the Nippons with Kikubara catching. W. Simpson and M. McDonald umpired.

Professional at Victoria Golf Club, Along With Pros From Other Three Local Clubs, Will Compete in Tournament Next Thursday and Friday at Vancouver; Bob Morrison, Crack Local Amateur, Will Also Be an Entry; Vancouver's Best Entered; Harold Brynjolfson Will Not Defend Amateur Honors.

When what promises to be a record field tees off at the Point Grey Golf and Country Club on September 11 in the annual British Columbia open golf championship Victoria will be well represented. In a canvass made of the local clubs this morning it was found that the four pros from the Victoria, Colwood, Uplands and Macaulay Point Clubs intend to make the trip. Besides the salaried stars it is expected several Victoria simon pure club wielders will go to Vancouver in quest of the open title. The tournament will extend over two days.

WHITE WILL DEFEND HIS GOLF HONORS

New York Golfer Seeking to Win Totem Pole Tourney at Jasper For Second Time

Officials Line Up Lengthy Men's and Women's Programme For Golf Week

Golfers who can burn up a course in the low seventies; those who can turn in a more or less respectable score of a modest eighty, and those who break everything but their left leg trying to break 100, are due for their annual week of enjoyable golf when the fifth annual Totem Pole amateur golf championship will be played at Jasper Park from September 13 to September 20 inclusive. This is the golf week the local players have been waiting for and they are all assured of a good time with enjoyable golf.

The committee in charge of this event has laid out an attractive programme, which runs from Saturday to Saturday. It commences with a time-honored handicap match against the pros for the men in the morning and for the women against the C.L.G.U. par in the afternoon. On Monday morning the annual interprovincial and state match will be played. Six men a side play this event and the total medal rounds are counted. Monday afternoon the always popular mixed foursomes will be played.

CHAMPIONSHIP STARTS
Tuesday morning marks the playing of the qualifying round of the Totem Pole championship, which was won last year by that popular all-round sportsman from New York, Gardiner White. The women's qualifying round is Tuesday afternoon. The flight play-downs follow and bring the championship and flight finals for Saturday morning. The presentation of the prizes for all events will take place in front of the lodge on Saturday afternoon.

The winner of the Totem Pole championship receives a beautiful sterling silver trophy which goes to the club the winter represents and is so held for one year. The winner receives a smaller replica of the trophy, which makes his permanent possession. This becomes his personal trophy.

Winners of all other flights and special events will also receive prizes which become their permanent possession. The ladies have been given special attention in the matter of prizes and the recipients will be delighted with their awards.

Gardiner White, who won the trophy last season, is back again from New York to defend it. This year, Mr. White has a pleasing style in making his shots, playing each with meticulous care, usually straight for the pin.

Harry Jones, captain of the Quilchena Golf Club of Vancouver, who by the way, won the trophy the second year of competition, is going back this year, hoping to cross swords, or mauls, with Gardiner White for possession of the trophy. Mr. Jones will lead a strong contingent from Vancouver to Jasper in the hope that the Totem Pole trophy once more will be taken care of by a British Columbia golf club.

Fourteen junior members of the Colwood Golf Club will compete tomorrow in the annual junior club championship. The event will be medal play with the youngsters turning in the best net score carrying the title.

Three prizes have been offered for the best three net scores turned in. The draw and starting times follow: 9.30 a.m.—A. Marling vs. B. Evans. 9.35—P. Parry vs. B. Driscoll. 9.40—Lyn Patrick vs. C. Peden. 9.45—R. Horsey vs. R. Patrick. 9.50—K. Graham vs. R. H. Lyons. 9.55—G. J. Scott vs. W. Pindley. 10.00—P. Rines vs. A. N. Ethier.

The local pros making the trip include: Phil Taylor, Victoria Golf Club; Walter Gravin, Uplands Golf Club; Alex Marling, Colwood Golf Club; and Freddy Burns, Macaulay Point Golf Club. Alex Marling declared he had not definitely decided to make the trip but it was more than likely he would be one of the competitors.

WON TITLE HERE
Phil Taylor will defend the title he won over his home course last year. Taylor burned up the sporty Oak Bay course to turn in the splendid total of 278 for the seventy-two holes. Taylor was easily the best, having an advantage of nine strokes over Dave Black, Shaughnessy Club, Vancouver, who finished in second place. Taylor had rounds of 70-68-70-70. Third place went to Harold Brynjolfson, while Bob Morrison, another local amateur, finished fourth.

Taylor is playing good golf at the present, having got in some fine practice on his recent trip to Banff. He has high hopes of making it two in a row.

Harold Brynjolfson, who by finishing third, lifted the amateur honors for the tournament, announced this morning he would not be an entry this year. Harold recently won the city amateur championship and was figured on to make a good showing in the open event.

MORRISON GOING
Bob Morrison, who lifted the city championship last season, has announced he will take part in the Vancouver tournament. Morrison although he has been slightly off his game for the last few weeks, hopes to return to his old form in the open.

The British Columbia open is limited to British Columbia residents only and is a seventy-two-hole medal round competition. Every golfer of note in Vancouver has signified his intention of taking part so competition should be keen.

Point Grey course is reported to be in splendid condition and the tournament should produce some exceptionally low cards. The time limit for the tournament is September 9 and Duncan Sutherland, Point Grey pro, is eager to have entrants send in their forms as soon as possible.

COLWOOD TO PLAY SEATTLE TEAM SUNDAY

Will Meet Overlake Golf Club Team Here in First Half of Interclub Match

Members of the Colwood Golf Club will act as hosts to a team from the Overlake Golf Club, Seattle, on Sunday in the first half of the annual interclub match. The second half of the competition will be staged at the Sound City club later in the year.

The teams will be engaged all day, with fourballs in the morning and singles in the afternoon.

Colwood has lined up a strong side to oppose the invaders, composed of the following: H. Lineham, W. W. Hall, J. R. Matson, P. Edmonds, J. H. Richardson, G. Wilkinson, F. Thomas, G. Simpson, G. Straith, T. S. McPherson, V. Weston, Dr. Haynes, T. Swan, W. Cathcart, C. Denham, E. N. Horsey, A. Millar, K. Perry, O. Leach and G. McKenzie.

Los Angeles Team Of Police Shots Defeats R.C.M.P.
Camp Perry, Ohio, Sept. 5.—The United States defeated Canada in the international police rifle match yesterday, when the Los Angeles team scored a total of 1,582 while the Royal Canadian Mounted scored 1,416. This match tests the skill of a policeman in shooting at a fleeing bandit. It is fired at rapid, slow and timed fire on ordinary running man targets. Scores of the Royal Mounted were: Cpl. Andrew Ford, Watertown, Pa., 304; Cpl. D. E. Ferriand, Lehigh, Ala., 287; J. D. O'Connell, Ottawa, Ont., 236; W. Mowat, Banff, Alta., 272; and J. L. Deller, Toronto, Ont., 268.

British Poloists Opening Challenge For World Honors

First Game of International Series for Ancient Westchester Cup Against United States Will Be Held To-morrow at Meadowbrook; Tommy Hitchcock Will Lead Defending Team Into Competition, 2 to 1 Favorites; British Side Hampered by Injuries; Teams Announced.

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Writer
New York, Sept. 5.—The battle for a forty-four-year-old cup and world polo supremacy begins on the Meadowbrook Club's international field, Westbury, Long Island, to-morrow with Tommy Hitchcock's U.S. four favored to beat back Great Britain's challenge for the third successive time.

GOLFER SHOWS GREAT SPIRIT

Competitor in California Tourney Purposely Loses Match After Mistake

Pebble Beach, Calif., Sept. 5.—Off of the fairways of Pebble Beach yesterday came the story of as fine a bit of sportsmanship as golf has known, and the incident robbed the 1930 California amateur championship of its most colorful contender—Roy E. Harris of San Francisco.

Rank outsider, then "Dark Horse" and finally potential finalist, Harris deliberately defeated himself in the second round yesterday when he had victory within his grasp. The score board showed this thirty-one-year-old San Francisco business man lost to Fay Coleman of Los Angeles, one up on the nineteenth.

Briefly, the setting was accounted for as follows: In the first qualifying round, his partner, R. E. Cowden, of Santa Paula, miscounted and credited Harris with a six instead of a seven on one of the holes. Wednesday night, Harris learned of it, and yesterday morning, just before he was slated to tee off with Coleman he offered to default the match. Tournament officials permitted him to play on.

Three up and three to play with the match virtually clinched, the San Francisco entry lost the next three holes by purposely driving out of bounds on each tee shot. With the match square at the eighteenth he declined to play the extra hole and defaulted.

Bout Between Jones And Smith Is Halted

New York, Sept. 5.—The twelve-round bout between Gorilla Jones, Akron, Ohio, and Harry Smith, New York, negro middleweights, was halted in the ninth round and was called "no contest" yesterday evening. The referee said neither was trying. Jones weighed 153, Smith 157.

Paul Bianchi of Argentina, stopped Jack Edwards in two minutes thirty-two seconds of the third round of a five-round, Bianchi weighed 208, Edwards 186.

PHILLIES BEAT BALTIMORE IN NIGHT FIXTURE

Baltimore, Sept. 5.—Twelve thousand Baltimore baseball fans had their first taste of night baseball here yesterday evening as the Philadelphia Nationals defeated the Orioles of the International League, 5 to 6, in a ten-inning exhibition game.

Hard Schedule On Road Faces Fast Stepping St. Louis

Up-and-coming Cardinals Win Again and Go Into Tie With New York for Second Place in National League; Cards Must Make Long Tour of East While Giants Remain at Home; Gabby Hartnett's Two Home Runs Pull Cubs Through Against Pittsburgh; Athletics and Washington Both Win.

Except for the difficulties which the schedule has in store for them, the St. Louis Cardinals might well be considered the most serious threat to the supremacy of the Chicago Cubs in the National League instead of New York's Giants. The Cards and the New York Giants are now tied for second place and the recent record of the St. Louis Club is far more impressive. But the Cards are faced with a long tour of the east, while the Giants will have the advantage of playing at home most of the time from now to the end of the season.

The Cards gained their deadlock for second place yesterday by trouncing the Cincinnati Reds, 12 to 2. The Giants at the same time took a 7 to 1 beating from the Boston Braves and lost a full game in the chase for the pennant.

Chicago's Cubs had another tough struggle with Pittsburgh, but Hartnett clouted his second home run of the game and his thirty-first of the season with two on base. Previously the Cubs had staged their favorite act of giving away a big lead and then overcoming it.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia had another day of idleness.

OVERTIME GAMES
The American League leaders also had to go overtime in a victory. It took the Philadelphia Athletics sixteen frames to down the Boston Red Sox by an 8 to 7 count. The Sox twice took the lead in the extra innings only to have home runs save the A's. Reeves hit a homer in the tenth and Bing Miller equalled it; Boston tallied twice in the fourteenth only to have Al Simmons tie the count again with his thirty-third homer. Bob Grove scored the winning run on Simmons' single in the fifteenth.

Washington Senators kept pace with the champions by winning a tight game from the New York Yankees, 3 to 2.

Cleveland retained its lead mathematical chance of tying the Athletics by downing the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 2.

Detroit Tigers did some effective hitting to defeat St. Louis, 5 to 4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Boston, Sept. 5.—Old Tom Zachary was master of the New York sluggers yesterday as the Braves turned back the Giants, 7 to 1. Zachary gave the Giants but nine scattered hits, while the Braves got to young Jim Chaplin for ten.

R. H. E. New York 1 9 0
Batteries—Chaplin and Hogan; Zachary and Spohrer.

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—The St. Louis Cardinals battered their way into a tie in the National League standing by smothering the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, 12 to 2.

R. H. E. Cincinnati 2 13 0
St. Louis 12 18 0
Batteries—Benton, S. Johnston and Sukeforth; Johnson and Wilson.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 5.—Gabby Hartnett's thirty-first home run, his twelfth in the series, gave Chicago a 10 to 7 victory over Pittsburgh yesterday, and incidentally a full game gain over the New York Giants, who lost to Boston.

Hartnett also hit a homer in the sixth, with two on, and Cuyler hit for the circuit in the eighth. Hornsby was back in the Cub line-up after a long layoff.

R. H. E. Chicago 10 15 3
Pittsburgh 7 14 0
Batteries—Bush, Petty, Malone and Hartnett; Wood, French, Swetonic and Henneley.

(Only three games scheduled.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Chicago, Sept. 5.—Willie Hudlin held the White Sox to three hits yesterday to give Cleveland a 3 to 2 victory. Caraway started for Chicago, but Moore and Thomas finished.

R. H. E. Cleveland 3 8 3
Chicago 2 3 0
Batteries—Caraway, Moore, Thomas and Crouse.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—The Philadelphia Athletics won a hotly played fifteen-inning game from the Boston Red Sox yesterday, 8 to 7.

R. H. E. Boston 7 13 1
Philadelphia 8 15 1
Batteries—MacFayden, Durham and Heving; Shores, Mahaffey, Grove and Cochran.

Detroit, Sept. 5.—The Detroit Tigers defeated the St. Louis Browns 8 to 4 in the series opener here yesterday.

R. H. E. St. Louis 4 9 1
Detroit 8 9 1
Batteries—Blasholder, Kimey and Ferrell; Sorrell, Hoyt and Hayworth.

New York, Sept. 5.—Bump Hatley had the best of Henry Johnson in a pitching duel yesterday, as the Washington Senators turned back the New York Yankees 3 to 2 to strengthen their hold on second place in the American League.

R. H. E. Washington 3 7 1
New York 2 6 1
Batteries—Hatley and Spencer; Johnson and Derry.

Victoria All-stars Leave In Quest of Lacrosse Title

To Oppose Richmond On Saturday In B.C. Championship Game

Jack Taylor Taking Strong Team to Vancouver for Series Against Defending Senior B Champions; Locals Have Been Practicing Hard and Are Confident of Victory; May Decide Title on Sudden-death Game; Local Team Announced.

In quest of the British Columbia Senior B lacrosse championship, an all-star Victoria aggregation under the management of Jack Taylor will leave for Vancouver to-night or to-morrow morning to oppose Richmond, defending champions, in the mainland city to-morrow-afternoon. Taylor has lined up a strong team and is confident his boys will be able to take the speedy mainlanders into camp.

JOKERS TO MEET BREADMEN HERE

Will Play Second Game of Provincial Softball Title Series To-morrow

With definite announcement that no lacrosse game would be played in Victoria to-morrow evening, the Jokers, softball champions of British Columbia, will clash with the Canadian Bakeries, Vancouver titleholders, at 5 o'clock at the Royal Athletic Park, in the second game of the provincial play-offs.

In the first game of the series with the Mainlanders, the locals went down to a 3 to 1 defeat. To-morrow they will be out in force to reverse the decision and force the play-offs into an extra frame.

Best Acres, one of the city's crack moundmen, will start in the box for the Jokers, with Banks playing back-stop. Edwards and Lacombe, two of the best in Vancouver and West Vancouver, will form the battery for the visitors.

Bob Whyte will referee the fixture.

Whether or not to-morrow's match will be a sudden-death game for the provincial championship will not be known until the Victoria team arrives on the scene of the tussle. The series is scheduled for two games, total goals to count, but owing to the lateness of the season the officials of the two clubs may decide to make it sudden-death. In that case Richmond, through playing on their home grounds, will have a slight edge, but the locals still figure on being able to overcome this disadvantage.

Last year Victoria was beaten by Richmond in the finals of a close series. On July 1 of this year Victoria played against Richmond in an exhibition game here and were beaten 10 to 7 after a close match. Since that time the Victoria players have been holding two and three practices a week and figure they have improved considerably. The following will compose the Victoria team: Coward, Norton, Robinson, Seale, Postinger, Bill Jack Taylor, Brown, Mitchell, Plater, Clanton, Nicol, Hardy and Caddell.

BOB PEARCE WINS EASILY OVER WRIGHT

Olympic Sculling Champ Defeats Canadian Sculler By Nearly a Length

Australian Proves Too Powerful at Finish; Sea-fleas Provide Thrills

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Before thousands of persons lining the shore here yesterday evening, Bob Pearce, powerful Australian sculler, now residing in Hamilton, demonstrated for the third time in less than a month his superiority over Joe Wright Jr., former holder of the Diamond Sculls, by defeating the Canadian sculler by three-quarters of a length in a special match quarter-mile race staged by the Canadian National Exhibition.

Pearce, holder of the Olympic sculling championship and undefeated since winning the crown, emblematic of the world's sculling championship, had defeated Wright in both the quarter-mile and one-mile races at the British Empire games at Hamilton last month.

WINS HANDILY Pearce started at the start and secured a comfortable lead which he held until the half-way mark was passed. At this stage Wright, who had gradually crept up, sculled his shell within a quarter of a length of the Antipodean's bow, but he lacked the stamina to win.

The time of 1:22 3-5 was fairly good considering the condition of the course, which was somewhat rough, despite the fact it was laid out inside the breakwater, with large scows blocking the gaps.

The Lord Wakefield Challenge Trophy race for class "B" was also open only to British Empire drivers, provided a large crowd with a thrilling spectacle. The little outboard motorboats raced on the outside of the breakwater, where the water was decidedly choppy. Of the fourteen who started in the fifteen-mile race around a rectangular course, only five finished, eight being dumped unceremoniously in the water when their small craft upset, while two withdrew because of motor trouble.

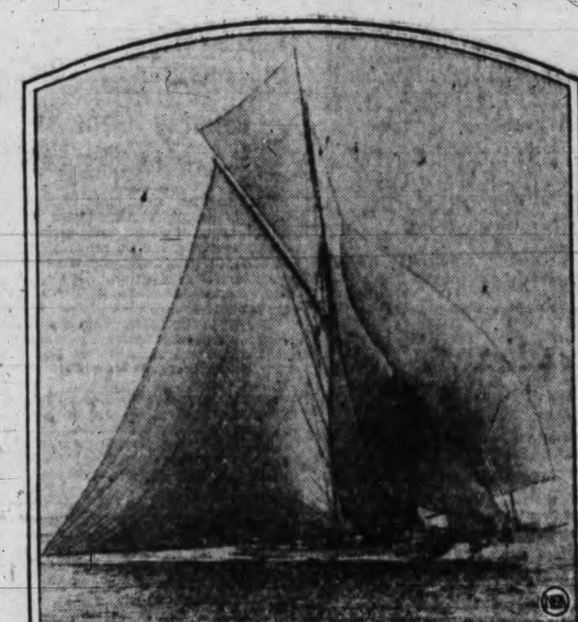

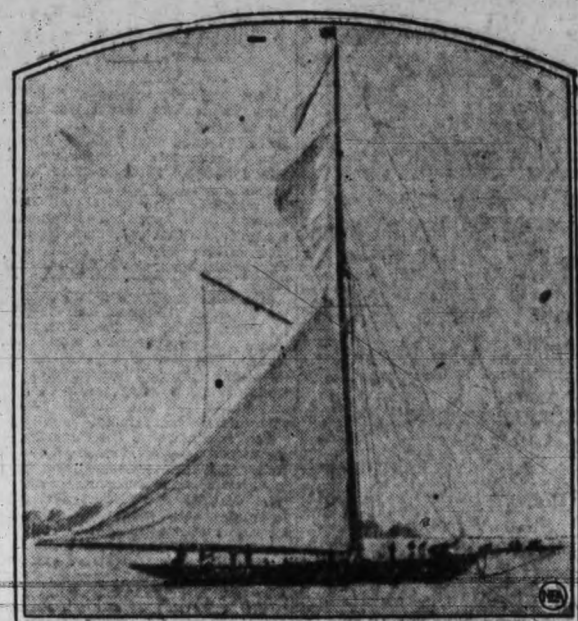

TORONTO WINS HONORS J. R. Ardell, sixteen-year-old Toronto boy, driving Miss Windsor, won the trophy and $25 by finishing first in thirty-three minutes and thirty-three seconds. He averaged 26.866 miles per hour.

Red Foster, Toronto, finished second, and J. Moffatt, Toronto, third. The lone woman driver to enter the race, Mrs. C. Martin, Ottawa, gave a thrilling exhibition and though she finished the course, was disqualified when she failed to round a buoy on her fifth lap, which was the last.

LIPTON'S CHALLENGES—NO. 1 Morgan Yacht Defeated First Shamrock In 1899

The Shamrock I, which was brought to this country in 1899 by Sir Thomas Lipton in his first challenge for the America's Cup, is shown in the upper picture. Below you see the yacht Columbia, victorious defender, under full sail off Sandy Hook, where the match was held.

Sir Thomas Lipton, whose Shamrock V now is being groomed for the yacht races off Newport, R.I., beginning September 13, sailed his first challenge series for the America's Cup in 1899. American boats already had successfully defended the coveted trophy nine times since it had been captured in England in 1851.

Though the wealthy Irish merchant, then fifty-one, knew practically nothing about yachting, his designer, William Fife Jr., English naval architect, turned out a powerful and rather extreme type of racing craft in the first green-hulled Shamrock.

J. Pierpont Morgan headed the New York Yacht Club syndicate which built the defender, Columbia. Its designer was Nat Herreshoff, the "Wizard of Bristol," whose son, L. Francis Herreshoff, planned the Whirlwind, one of the four racing candidates this year.

Nearly two weeks of calm and fog delayed the first race until October 18, when Shamrock led the Columbia over the line as the starting gun boomed. The run was fifteen miles to windward and return, and Columbia gained nearly ten minutes in beating to the outer mark. It also gained a few seconds on the home run before the wind, and won by a comfortable margin.

Next day, on a thirty-mile triangular course, Shamrock's topmasts snapped off in a twelve-knot breeze. Lipton's yacht failed to finish and Columbia was declared the winner, according to a previous agreement regarding such accidents. With a new topmast, Shamrock got away with a full minute's lead in the third race, which was to leeward and windward. The outward run was close and thrilling, with the American boat crowding on a big spinnaker and gaff topsail. Columbia rounded the outer mark just seventeen seconds ahead of Shamrock, and crossed the line on the windward beat with six minutes to spare.

That finished the match. The gallant Lipton had suffered his first defeat.

This is the first of a series of five articles on the races for the America's Cup. The final article will deal with the approaching series, which starts on September 13.

GALLANT FOX CAN SURPASS ZEV'S RECORD

Victory at Belmont Park To-morrow Will Give Him All-time Winning Title

Has Earned in Excess of $287,000; Questionnaire Is Most Dangerous Opponent

New York, Sept. 5.—Gallant Fox, the three-year-old champion, enters the renewal of the Lawrence Realization at Belmont Park to-morrow with victory meaning the turf's all-time money winning title.

In two years of racing Gallant Fox has earned in excess of $287,000, all but $20,000 of which was picked up in seven victories in eight starts as a three-year-old. The mark is only $28,000 short of Zev's record of $313,000, and the Lawrence Realization is worth $30,000 to the winner.

James Butler's Questionnaire, carrying 119, is rated as the Fox's most dangerous rival to-morrow. The Fox will carry 126.

Probably not more than three will start in the stake with William Ziegler Jr.'s Spinach the third candidate.

FINAL RACE MEET OPENS TO-MORROW

Seven-day Meet Will Get Under Way at Colwood Track; Many Horses Here

Judge McKeown, Vancouver, Will Preside; Improvements Made to Mile Oval

To-morrow will witness the opening of the final race meet in British Columbia, when the ponies commence seven days of galloping at the Colwood mile track. Officials announced to-day that over 200 thoroughbreds are stabled at the Colwood and Willows and good fields are assured local fans.

A number of improvements have been carried out at the track, including the erection of a new odds board and the old price board has been replaced with a bigger and better one, which may be read from all parts of the grandstand and paddock.

NEW JUDGE

Owing to the fact that he was forced to return to Kentucky, Judge Woodard will not preside at Colwood. However, his place will be taken by a capable official in Judge McKeown, Vancouver. The remainder of the officials will be the same as during the previous meets.

The same jockeys will be up on the mounts as in other meets here, although Jockey Kelly, who was one of the most popular boys with local fans, will not ride. Kelly drew down a suspension for the remainder of the season on B.C. tracks for some rough riding at Brighouse Park.

The track is reported to be in first-class shape and some new records may be hung up. All the rough spots have been taken out, while the back stretch has been harrowed and rolled.

FREE SHOT IS INTRODUCED IN LACROSSE

Player Fouled Within Ten Yards of Goal Will Be Awarded Clear Drive

Other Important Changes Made in Rules; B.C. Awarded Mann Cup Finals

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Important changes in the playing rules, introduction of medals to Mann Cup winning team members for the past four years and decision to hold the next year's Mann Cup series in British Columbia, featured the meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association here yesterday.

Rules eight and nine were subjected to slight changes.

A clause was inserted in rule eight penalizing a team with more than the regulation number of players on the field. Any goals scored in such a case will be disallowed and the extra players will be ejected. A clause was added to the surplus, for a time left to the discretion of the referee.

To start play it was decided the referee should blow his whistle instead of calling "play." It was pointed out that at present the timekeepers cannot always tell when play is started.

GIVE FREE SHOT

An addition was made to rule eight, section 40, giving a free shot to a player fouled within ten yards of the goal when he has a clear shot with no one but the goalkeeper in front of him. The free shot to be taken from ten yards out.

To rule nine, section six, forbidding players to move from position when "time is called until the ball is faced again," a clause was added: "Unless he lays his stick on the ground." It was pointed out that unless players are thus kept in positions when "time" is called, a team may quickly lose its advantages.

One of the most important decisions arrived at was the approval of delegates to a move to have professional players reinstated into amateur ranks. The secretary was instructed to write the various districts for the names of former professionals eligible to reinstatement under the proposed clause of being three years out of the game. The names will then be submitted to the Amateur Union at the next annual meeting.

Soccer Meeting

All boys under eighteen years of age residing in the Foul Bay and surrounding districts interested in football, are asked to attend a meeting to-night at 7 o'clock at 254 Wolsley Avenue.

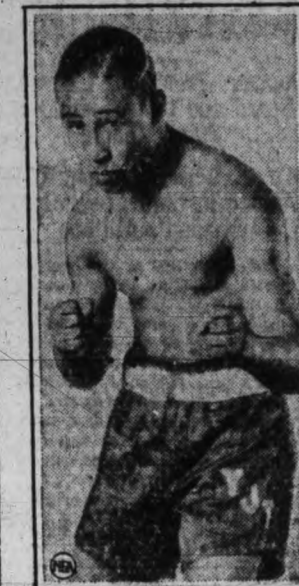

FOOTBALL MEETING

A special meeting of the executive of the Lower Island Football Association will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-night at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested, as business of importance will be transacted.

Stockholders Put Up $315,000 To Save Big Stadium

Chicago, Sept. 5.—A group of stockholders have put up $315,000 to save Chicago's $7,000,000 sport stadium from disaster, Sidney N. Strutz, president, announced to-day.

Will Meet To-night In World Title Bout

YOUNG JACK THOMPSON

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 5.—Young Jack Thompson, world's welterweight champion, risks his title to-night for the first time since he won it from Jackie Fields four months ago. He will meet Tommy Freeman, Cleveland challenger, in a fifteen-round contest to a referee's decision in the Cleveland American League baseball park.

The match will be fought at the welterweight limit of 147 pounds. Indications were both Thompson and his challenger would easily make the weight. The champion figures to scale around 144 pounds, with Freeman tipping the beam at 146 pounds when they appear before the Cleveland Boxing Commission.

HAS BEATEN THOMPSON

Freeman defeated Thompson last January, before Thompson won the title, but in that engagement the Cleveland welterweight had a weight advantage of six pounds. He scaled 152 pounds, which enabled him to retain his full fighting strength. Whether paring his frame down to the welterweight limit would impair his fighting ability to-night was a question that caused his handlers to worry.

Freeman, however, is confident of victory. Thompson remained a 2 to 1 favorite to retain his title. The champion's handlers said he was in perfect condition and might stop the Cleveland challenger inside the fifteen-round limit.

Indications were that cool and fair weather would prevail for to-night's contest, but in the event of a postponement, the match will be held on Monday night. The bout is scheduled to start around 10 p.m., eastern standard time. The advance sale gave promise that the gate receipts might exceed $60,000.

LOOK BEFORE SHOOTING IS ADVICE GIVEN

Hunters Urged to Use Caution When They Enter Woods on September 13

"Look before you shoot. There is no excuse for anyone firing at an object until he has made certain that it is something at which he is entitled to shoot," stated Attorney-General Pooley, in his advice to hunters intending to go into the woods on September 13 when the deer and blue grouse seasons open. Coupled with his advice, Mr. Pooley issued an appeal to all hunters urging them to show the utmost caution to prevent forest fires while after game.

It was stated that the government this week rejected a proposal by logging interests to postpone the shooting season because of fire hazards. But if fires are started during the month, there is every indication that the season will be retarded in future.

Reports from the woods state deer are plentiful in all districts, but the grouse have been greatly depleted by forest fires during the summer. While the season has been exceptionally dry to date, prospects of rain in the near future promise to improve hunting conditions in the hills, and should add to the attraction of the woods as far as hunters are concerned.

Sargent, Brother Of Duke Kahanamoka, Is Visitor to Victoria

Sargent Kahanamoka, youngest of a quartette of aquatic speedsters, Duke, David and Sam, passed through Victoria yesterday aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, en route for his home in Hawaii after spending a vacation with friends on Gooch Island.

During his short stay here, Sargent announced that he would make a determined effort to gain a place on the United States Olympic swimming team for the games in 1932.

Ten or twelve years ago "the Duke" flashed across the swimming horizon of the world to gain the name of Hawaii's flying fish. Besides winning scores of championships in all parts of the Pacific, he secured many Olympic laurels and was accounted the fastest man of his time and the best of the early crawl swimmers. Later, his younger brothers, Sam and David, displayed brilliant form to climb to the upper rungs of the aquatic ladder.

Now Sargent is out to regain the honors for his family and hopes to make a good showing if he secures a berth with the United States swimmers.

MRS. W. H. BOOTH RESIGNS FROM DISTRICT W.I.

Popular President Leaves Board and Conventership of Public Health

Much Dissatisfaction Rife Among Institutions Over Government's Attitude

Dissatisfaction at the way in which the affairs of the women's institutions are being managed in the province found expression at the meeting of the board of directors of the Vancouver Island South District Women's Institutes yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. W. H. Booth resigned as district president and also as district convener of public health and child welfare.

For some time past many of the institute members on Vancouver Island have felt that the control of their affairs is being taken too much out of their own hands and vested in officials appointed by the government, while at the same time the government has cut the institute grant to fifty cents per capita instead of the $1 allowed under the previous administration. Many of the members are of the opinion that it would be better for the institutes if they were released entirely from government control and were allowed to manage their own affairs, as is the practice in Great Britain, where they are entirely divorced from governmental jurisdiction.

NO PROVINCIAL CONVENTION

The decision of the department to eliminate the provincial convention of women's institutes is another sore point, many of the women feeling that such an interchange of ideas and contact with rural women throughout the province is of far more value than the system of district conferences which has been inaugurated in its place. The reason given for the change is that of cost, but as many of the women point out, they are willing to finance their own conventions if given the opportunity to do so.

DONE EXCELLENT WORK

Mrs. Booth's resignation was received with very much regret yesterday afternoon, the board recording its appreciation of the excellent work she has carried on, not only in the role of chairman of the board, but also as convener of public health and child welfare for a number of years, in which capacity she has performed an invaluable community service, particularly in Esquimalt, where her child hygiene council has been of service to hundreds of mothers during the last nine years. The board will not fill the presidency in the meantime, but the convener of the health committee, preferring to wait for the district conference which is to be held in Victoria on October 22 and 23.

The programme of this conference is being arranged by the district board and the superintendent of women's institutes, Mrs. V. S. McLachlan.

Suggestions for the programme will be sought from the different institutes in the district. Handicrafts and industries will be featured also, and the girls' judging team contests at Vancouver fair will be demonstrated.

Six institutes have so far sent to the board their per capita donation.

Rockland Park W.C.T.U.—Rockland Park W.C.T.U. held a well-attended and enthusiastic meeting at the home of Mrs. F. W. Laing. A silent vote of sympathy was passed in memory of Mrs. Snow, a faithful and zealous worker in the union for many years. Devotional exercises were led by Miss Sproule with the active participation of all members. Mrs. Koyl was unanimously elected secretary, succeeding Miss Goulter, who resigned after many years of faithful service in that office. Delegates to the provincial convention to be held at Vancouver from September 15 to 18 were Mrs. Laing and Mrs. Burton. A donation of $5 was made to the Jubilee Memorial fund for the work of the society. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Knox Ladies' Aid—Arrangements for a congregational social and shower on September 26 were made at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid of Knox Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Dempsey, the president, in the chair, and Mrs. Harris acting as secretary in the unavoidable absence of Miss McPhail. The secretary was instructed to send letters and baskets of fruit to several sick members. Plans were drawn up for a fall fair to be held early in November. Several aprons and finished articles were turned in by some of the ladies, and several donations in cash were also received. Mrs. Pounds was nominated to membership. Following the formal proceedings tea was served, the hostesses being Mrs. Harris and Mrs. H. W. Curtis.

WAGNER OPERA MUCH ENJOYED

Delightful Affair at Mrs. J. H. Gillespie's; Repeated To-night

Over eighty members of the Gonzales Chapter and their friends enjoyed the delightful recital of Wagner's opera, "Tristan and Isolde," given by Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, at her home, "Windyhaugh," Fairfield Road, yesterday afternoon in aid of the funds of the chapter. The recital will be repeated this evening, commencing promptly at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Kumtuka Club, a few tickets still being available to the public.

Mrs. Gillespie in vivid language told the story of the opera and described the great Wagner Festival at Bayreuth, where the very beautiful records were made. The beauty of tone of both solos and choruses was notable, the electric Victoria bringing out the light and shade and the delicate nuances with remarkable fidelity.

Mrs. A. Chaboin, the secretary, accompanied by Mrs. Saxton-White, the standard bearer, welcomed the guests in the unavoidable absence of the regent, Mrs. B. Tyrwhitt Drake. Miss Alexander acted as general convener for the occasion; Mrs. Curtis Sampson, provincial president, assisted Mrs. Gillespie with the gramophone, and Mrs. Sydney Barker was convener of the very delicious tea, which was served during an interval in the programme.

Two drawings were conducted during the afternoon to supplement the chapter funds, Miss Alexander winning the beautiful chrysanthemum plant and Miss Marion Pitts, the candy.

First Mrs. Lon Chaney Gets $1 From Big Estate

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 5. — Lon Chaney, moving picture actor known as the "man of a thousand faces," who died August 26, left an estate estimated at $500,000, the bulk of which he bequeathed to the widow, Hazel G. Chaney, named executrix in a will filed for probate here.

To Cleve Creighton Bush of Pasadena, his former wife, the actor left $1. In the will, he said: "So that there may be no misunderstandings or contest of any kind whatever, I hereby give and bequeath to Cleve Creighton Bush the sum of $1 and no more. I am divorced from Cleve Creighton Bush and I am under no obligations whatever to provide anything further or additional than herein contained."

Professor S. John of the University of Hawaii, where he is professor of botany, sailed on the Empress of Japan yesterday for Honolulu after a holiday on the mainland. He is the son of Harvard and was formerly at Pullman College, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Holoff of Stockton, California, who have left for the south after spending their honeymoon at Banff, Lake Louise and Victoria, and who have been staying at the Empress Hotel, were recently the guests of Miss Winnie Blume and Mrs. R. P. Cooney of 457 Quebec Street, James Bay.

Mrs. L. Acton of San Francisco, who left Victoria two years ago to make her home in the south, arrived here last night aboard the liner Ruth Alexander and will spend a month in the city and in Vancouver. At present she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Finland of Old Esquimalt Road.

Rev. C. T. Scott, D.D., who served as pastor of Metropolitan Church some years ago, will arrive in the city with Mrs. Scott by the Canadian Pacific boat from Seattle to-morrow afternoon to take up his work as interim pastor. During their stay in the city they will reside at the parsonage, 716 Johnson Street.

Mrs. Hernal Harris Fraser has returned from a short visit to Seattle, where she was the guest of Mrs. Ernest Wamaker, and during her stay at the Victoria Club of Seattle on dressed the Poetry Club of Seattle and the work of the Victoria and Islands branch, Canadian Authors' Association, and the life and poetry of its founders, Marjorie Pickthall.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson Moore of Vancouver, who were married in Victoria in June, will arrive in Victoria this evening aboard the liner President Grant from the Orient, their world tour itinerary having been cancelled because of Mr. Moore's business. While in Victoria they will visit with Mrs. Moore's parents, Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. T. B. Monk of Heywood Avenue.

Mrs. Nelson, an old-timer of Victoria, who keeps the 100-mile road house in the Cariboo country, was very solicitous for his many friends still living in Victoria, and sent his greetings to many friends through Mr. O. Jennings Burnett, who has just returned after visiting the Cariboo country around "Lone Butte," Forest Grove, Tatton, and other places.

Mrs. Fred Parson and Miss Mayne S. Mawer have returned to Victoria after a nine weeks' tour of Europe, as members of the party organized by Dr. Glen Davies. They sailed from New York early in July on the S. S. Saturnia of the Cosulich Line, going direct to Naples via Gibraltar and Algiers. The party, numbering twenty-six, was met at Rome by E. D. Preston of London, representative of the American Express Company, who thereafter looked after the hotel accommodation and other travelling details in a manner which made for the utmost comfort of the visitors. The whole tour was enjoyable, but the most outstanding incident was the visit to Oberammergau and the witnessing of the historic Passion Play. Dr. and Mrs. Davies accompanied Mrs. Parson and Miss Mawer as far as Omaha on the return home, then left for Denver to visit relatives, and will be home before Sunday.

Chapter Plans Silver Tea And Programme

A standing tribute to the memory of one of the earliest members of the chapter, Mrs. Leighton, was paid by the members of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter at the meeting held yesterday afternoon, and the regent, Mrs. R. B. McKicking, reported that flowers had been sent, and acknowledged by the family. The congratulations of the chapter were conveyed to Mrs. J. S. Plaisant, former vice-regent of the chapter, on the many honors that were recently bestowed upon her distinguished husband.

The chapter expressed thanks to all who assisted on Heather Day, especially to Mrs. Walter Burton, convener for the day. From the proceeds a library valued at $15 was voted for an isolated school in the Peace River district, following the report of the educational secretary, Mrs. E. C. Hayward.

A beautiful wreath of heather was placed on the cross of sacrifice in Ross Bay Cemetery by the chapter.

It was decided to hold a silver tea in the drawing rooms of the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday, September 17, between 3 and 5 o'clock. The hostesses will be Mrs. Colquhoun Holmes, Mrs. Sheppard and Mrs. E. C. Hayward, and members are asked to notify one or other of these ladies regarding contributions for the tea. A short programme will be given, and there will be a table of attractive articles for sale. The general public will be welcomed, and members are asked to bring their friends.

Lodge to Meet—Daughters of St. George No. 238 will hold their meeting to-night at 8 o'clock.

DECIDE QUESTION OF PRECEDENCE AT OTTAWA

Prime Minister to Have Official Hostess For First Time in Many Years

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—With the opening of another session of Parliament set for next Monday interest attaches to the changes in official circles which inevitably follow a change of government. Governments come and governments go, but the table of precedence remains constant. It dictates who at official social functions in the Dominion capital. It tells just what position one shall occupy at the banquet table, in what order people shall be presented, in short, in what one stands socially, according to the dictates of official usage. The individuals change, but the rules remain.

FEW SOCIAL FUNCTIONS
 It is not anticipated this brief session of Parliament will produce much along social lines. It is to be a business session of short duration. There will be no drawing-room and no state dinner, but there will be other sessions, and hostesses who believe in doing things according to rule and precedent must prepare accordingly.

OFFICIAL HOSTESS

For the first time in many years the Prime Minister of Canada will have a lady to act as his official hostess and to assume the position generally accorded to the wife of the government leader. Miss Mildred Bennett, sister of Hon. R. B. Bennett, will, it is expected, take this important place. The position of Prime Minister ranks high in the table of precedence. He is placed eleventh on the list, and is preceded only by the Governor-General, who as representative of the King takes precedence over all persons in Canada, and by the Lieutenant-Governors of the nine provinces of the Dominion. The ministers representing foreign governments, in their order of seniority, take precedence over Canadian cabinet ministers under the rank of prime minister. Consequently the minister from Japan, Hon. I. M. Tokugawa, and his wife, through their position of seniority in the diplomatic corps here, take precedence over Canadian cabinet ministers and their wives. Col. Hanford MacNider, United States minister, and Mrs. MacNider, come next on the list, and the French minister, when he is appointed, will follow. Archbishops and bishops, in their order of seniority, and the heads of the non-episcopal denominations in Canada also take social precedence over the cabinet ministers of Canada.

Then come the members of the Federal Cabinet, once more in order of

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. MILDRED BENTNET

Mrs. Bennett will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will secure a personal reply.

HOW OFTEN SHOULD BABY'S FORMULA BE CHANGED

Even if baby is doing well on his present formula there is always a question in his mother's mind as to when and how drastic the changes should be made in it.

There are no absolute rules about this, for some babies continue to gain weight adequately on formulas much weaker than the standard ones for their ages and weight. The most sensible way of handling it is to let the baby's gain in weight indicate how long a particular formula is nourishing to him.

Every baby should be weighed weekly on the same day and preferably at the same hour in the day. Unless the weather is fearfully hot, or the baby teething or sick, the gain should be a fairly steady one and may be four ounces or it may be six ounces. If the gain is more than six ounces, the mother should suspect that the formula is too rich and baby is being overfed. If the gain is constantly four ounces or less, she should realize that the formula is too weak and lacks sufficient nourishment.

CHECKING THE GAINS

A good formula suited to the child's age and weight will furnish him enough nutrition to make his weekly gain better than four ounces for the first six months of his life, and about four ounces weekly the second six. Two ounces weekly, or a half pound a month, is good gain after baby is one year old.

Just as long as the gain continues seniority. Sir George Perley heads the list. Next come Senator G. D. Robertson, Hon. Hugh Guthrie and Hon. E. N. Rhodes, in the order named. The others rank as follows: Hon. H. H. Stevens, Hon. R. J. Manion, Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Hon. Arthur Bayne, Hon. Murray MacLaren, Hon. H. A. Stewart, Hon. C. H. Cahan, Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Hon. Alfred Durneau, Hon. T. G. Murphy, Hon. Maurice Dupre, Hon. W. A. Gordon and Hon. Robert Weir. The Chief Justice of Canada and the High Commissioner of Great Britain in Canada, Sir William Carr, follow immediately after the members of the cabinet in the table of precedence.

The position of leader of the opposition, as such, is not mentioned in the table of precedence, but Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King takes his official social standing through his rank as a member of the Privy Council of Canada. Members of the Dominion Privy Council who are not in the cabinet follow immediately after the Chief Justice of Canada in the table of precedence. The list is headed by Rt. Hon. Sir George Foster, who was sworn in the Privy Council December 10, 1885. Mr. King's name is eleventh on the list of Privy Counsellors.

Bowling Club Social.—The Burnside Ladies' Lawn Bowling will hold the first of a series of 500 card parties on Saturday, September 6, at 8.30 o'clock in Hampton Hall. There will be good prizes and refreshments will be served.

FRENCH BOOK PRIZE AWARDS DECIDED HERE

Miss Frances Tremayne and David Ellis to Receive Volumes From Consul

To Frances Tremayne and David Ellis, second year students of Victoria College, goes the distinction of winning the two book prizes presented each year by the French Government to the young man and young woman showing a special aptitude and marked progress in the study of the French language at the institution.

These awards are given in addition to the Walter Nichol scholarship and the one offered by the local group of the Alliance Française to the first and second year students of French respectively.

This year, Paul Suzor, French Consul at Vancouver, has sent an edition of "L'Aiglon," by Edmond Rostand, won by Miss Frances Tremayne, and "La Chasse au Metéore," by Jules Verne, won by David Ellis. These splendid volumes will be given at the time of the distribution of the other scholarships, early in October. Both Miss Tremayne and Mr. Ellis have completed their two years at Victoria College and both have exceptionally fine records in their college work.

Scouts' Auxiliary Met.—The Women's Auxiliary to the Victoria Boy Scouts' Association met at Scout headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street, on Thursday. There was a good attendance of members. Business was transacted, also plans were discussed for the winter months.

BRIDE WORE TWO WEDDING GOWNS

New Mrs. Marshall Field Changed Costume For Two Marriage Services

Two marriage services and two wedding costumes were features of the nuptials in London recently of Mrs. Dudley Coats, widow of Captain Coats, a member of the famous cotton-head family, to Marshall Field, the Chicago millionaire.

TO AVOID PHOTOGRAPHERS
 So secret was the wedding intended to be that the bride and bridegroom arrived in a motor car at the registrar's office at 8.30 a.m.—the earliest moment that it could be opened—and as soon as they and the witnesses of the ceremony had entered the doors were shut and locked.

In ten minutes they were out again, but left by a side entrance and, instead of driving away in their car, the bride and bridegroom went down a side street to a taxicab. This ruse was adopted to evade the crowd of American photographers waiting outside.

Later the bride and bridegroom were driven separately to the little Church of St. Ethelburga, in Bishopsgate, for a benedictory service.

CHURCH A BOWER
 The church had been converted into a bower of flame and pink gladioli at the direction of the bride, who had changed from her coat and skirt and white tam-o'-shanter, in which she was married at Marplebone, and wore a long, graceful dress of powder blue, with a wide-brimmed hat trimmed with dark blue ospreys.

The ceremony was the culmination of a romance which began in the hunting field.

Their honeymoon is to be on unconventional lines, and will include a long trip by ship and a big game shooting expedition in Africa.

HUGE FORTUNES UNITED
 By the marriage, two wealthy families were united, for not only did the late Captain Dudley Coats leave a substantial fortune, but Mrs. Coats also inherited money from her mother, who was a well-known Mayfair hostess.

Marshall Field will, at the age of forty, inherit a fortune estimated to amount to a minimum of $300,000,000. He inherited three-fifths of the $150,000,000 estate left by his grandfather, the Chicago storekeeper, twenty-five years ago, and since the death in 1917 of his brother, Henry Field, the greater part of his grandfather's fortune has fallen to him.

FRENCH WOMAN'S RECORD FLIGHT

1111. Bastie Breaks World Endurance Record; in Air Thirty-eight Hours

Paris, Sept. 5.—Mlle. Maryse Bastie, French woman aviator, yesterday broke the world's women's endurance record for sustained flight. She landed at 9.31 a.m., after exactly thirty-eight hours aloft. Her mark was two hours, thirteen minutes and five seconds better than that of Lena Bernstein, made May 2.

Mlle. Bastie altogether set three new world's flying records—that for a woman in sustained flight, for either man or woman lone pilot in sustained flight, and for sustained flight in a light machine.

She came down worn out with cold and fatigue and stumbled and would have fallen had she not been helped from the cockpit of her plane. Tears ran down her face as she smiled in the happiness of her triumph.

Her first question was about Coats and Bellows, of whose success she knew only through signals on the ground while she was flying.

Good Boy!

And well he might give thanks for the change Nestlé's Evaporated Milk has made in him! Used to be cranky—sickly—just didn't progress. Now all this is changed. Bright, alert and happy.

And here's the reason! Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is just the best of fresh cow's milk with part of the water removed—then sealed and sterilized in airtight containers. Add water again and you have absolutely pure, safe milk—but more readily digestible than ordinary milk because the large fat globules of the milk have been broken up into small ones of the same size as in Mother's milk. Also, the curds which form in the stomach when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is used are soft and flaky and therefore easily digestible.

Use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for Your Baby. Use it in coffee—in cocoa—in tea. Use it in all cooking and as a beverage by diluting with one to two parts water.

Rheumatism 23 Yrs Discovers Way to Banish all Pain

Nothing Helped Till She Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"I had rheumatism for 23 years. Hospital visits cost me a fortune. Was in bed when I took 'Fruit-a-tives.' They have done wonders. Can do my work and no more pain." — Mrs. A. N. Field, Wynyard, Sask.

Just one of thousands who say rheumatism, neuralgia, neuritis fly away quick with "Fruit-a-tives." Chronic constipation and liver troubles end overnight. Bad stomach, biliousness, indigestion, heartburn, gas vanish like magic. Kidney and bladder ills, pain in back go in hurry. Nerves quiet, sound sleep at once.

Ten of nature's greatest remedies combined in handy little tablet. Marvellous discovery of famous Canadian doctor. Speedy results.

Get "Fruit-a-tives" from druggist to-day. Sleep fine, wake up great. (Adv.)

GASOLINE TAX ASSOCIATION IS NEW PROPOSAL

Toronto, Sept. 5.—A decision to recommend to the Canadian Government that a Dominion gasoline tax association be formed marked the activities of Canadian delegates attending the North American Gasoline Tax Conference here yesterday.

Purposes of the new association, it was stated, would be to work for uniformity of gasoline tax laws in Canada, to consider the problems of the various provinces, and to secure information that would be of assistance in collection of the tax.

W. H. Brown of the Ontario Department of Highways was appointed tentative president of the new organization and J. R. Macdonald, Regina, secretary.

At a recent exhibit of the Worshipful Company of Gold and Silver Wire Drawers, in England, a sample of gold wire drawn so fine that 3,500 yards weighed only one ounce, was exhibited.

DYSPEPSIA ONE OF COMMONEST ILLS OF MANKIND

New Sargon Treatment Brings Relief to Countless Cases
After All Other Medicines
Have Failed

Of all the distressing conditions which afflict humanity, dyspepsia, or what is more commonly called indigestion, is probably the most prevalent, and in many cases one of the most difficult to overcome.

Sargon, the new scientific medicine that has created such a sensation wherever introduced, has triumphed time and time again over this stubborn ailment after all other medicines apparently failed. Read the straightforward statement made recently by Robert G. Ball, 1220 8th Ave. W., Vancouver, who is a well-known salesman and formerly resided in London, Eng.

"For six years I suffered with stomach trouble that was finally diagnosed as chronic dyspepsia; a heavy, rock-like feeling in my stomach after eating; an accumulation of gas in the region of my heart, and a sourness and burning from 'water brash' that kept me in constant misery. I slept poorly and developed a weakening pain in the small of my back that took all the pep out of me. Sometimes at work I felt like I'd 'cave in' and would just have to keep going on my will power.

"It was a real piece of luck when I ran across this new Sargon medicine! Nothing else I had tried—magnesia, soda, and all kinds of pills—ever helped me more than temporarily, but Sargon has put me back on my feet as well and strong as I was six years ago. My food digests perfectly and gives me real energy; those pains in my back are gone; I sleep good and get up feeling fine and fit for work.

"I believe now that years of constipation was the blame for much of my trouble, just from not noticing the difference in the way I felt after the Sargon Pills got me regulated right. I used them right along with Sargon and their action was the finest of any laxative I've ever taken. I've made it a point to tell everybody I can about these two great medicines and our family will never be without it again."

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Owl Drug Stores; in New Westminster from the Evers Drug Company; in Esquimalt from Pulmer's Drug Store; in Oak Bay from Charles Hudson. (Adv.)

TWO CANADIAN FLIERS PREPARE FOR SEA JUMP

Errol Boyd and Harry Connor Hope to Go From Montreal to London

Canadian Press
Montreal, Sept. 5.—Northern New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton are expected to have a glimpse of Captain Errol Boyd and Lieut. Harry Connor when they commence their transatlantic flight from Montreal to London, according to the route outlined by the fliers to-day. It is planned the flight will be broken at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, as a safety measure. Extra gasoline and oil are to be taken on board at that airport, and final weather reports checked up. The monoplane Columbia, once conqueror of the North Atlantic, carries no wireless.

The flight is scheduled to start as soon as a high pressure area moves in from the western part of the continent, ensuring following winds. Captain Boyd and his backers do not expect to be held up owing to a lawsuit between the Columbia and the Columbia Airlines Corporation, owners of the veteran monoplane.

The Anglican Church Sunday school children, together with their parents and friends, spent an enjoyable time at their picnic, held at Sandy Beach, on Thursday last. Two launches conveyed the party to the picnic place, free transportation for the children being provided by Mr. Creed. Bathing and water sports were indulged in until dusk, when the tired, but happy, party boarded the launches for home.

The Misses Alma and Ida Heyer entertained at a kitchen shower on Friday evening in honor of the Misses Roberta and Madeline Sluggett, who are to be married shortly. The gifts were collected in a huge cup and saucer and teapot, decorated in green and white crepe paper and presented by little Ivan Flandley, dressed as a chef. Winners of competitions held during the evening were Mrs. J. W. Sluggett and Miss Shirley Sluggett. The guests were Mrs. R. Sluggett, Mrs. Haddon, Mrs. Pindley, Mrs. J. Sluggett, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Ensore and the Misses Shirley Sluggett, Grace Sluggett, Margaret Johnson, Dorothy and Hope Sluggett, Bertha Snider, Dolly Crampton, Myrtle Snider, Alma and Daisy Sluggett and Muriel and Phyllis Sluggett.

Saanich Newcomer Member of Family Who Won Two V.C.'s

H. N. Birch, who came to Victoria three months ago with his wife and three children and has settled at Cherry Tree Farm on the East Saanich Road, was revealed to-day as a member of the family of Sir Walter Congreve, concerning whom a special dispatch from London through Reuters to The Victoria Times last week told of both father and son having been awarded the V.C. for gallantry.

"If Billy Congreve, the son, who has been posthumously awarded the Victoria Cross, had lived, he would have been the youngest brigadier-general in the British army," Mr. Birch said. "He and I were cousins."

"There is only one other case of father and son holding the Victoria

SCOTTISH PLAY. FOR MEDICALS

Band of 16th Gives Concert on Steps of Parliament Buildings For Visiting Doctors

Honoring the visiting doctors of the British Medical Association and the Pacific Coast Oculo-ophthalmological Society in music, the band of the 16th Canadian Scottish gave one of its most varied and spirited concerts of the season on the steps of the Parliament Buildings yesterday evening. The concert lasted an hour and a half; and several hundred people were drawn to the lawn of the building by the strains of martial music.

The buildings, as usual, were illuminated, and the outdoor concert proved immensely popular, the fine weather assisting its success. Bandmaster James M. Miller conducted the musicians, who gave the following programme of spirited music:

March, "Spirit of Peace" (Goldman); selection, "The Prince of Pilsen" (Luders); waltz, "Lustige Bruder" (Volsted); novelty march, "The Jolly Coppersmith" (Peter); selection, "Songs of Ireland" (Douglas); intermezzo, "Message of the Heart" (Severne); Potpourri, Popular Songs (Squire); fantasia, "Home, Sweet Home the World Over" (Lampe).

BOOP-A-DOOP GIRL WEEPS ON WITNESS STAND

Famed Movie Star Tells of More Than $50,000 Advances to Man Admirer

New York, Sept. 5.—It started out as a drab cloak-and-suit bankruptcy hearing, but before it adjourned Helen Kane, the boop-boop-a-doop singer, famed for her baby singing in so many feature movie productions, had fainted after a crying spell, told of more than $50,000 advances to an admirer, admitted "I've been terribly careless with my money," lapsed her fear of death threats from Chicago's gangland, denied any promise to marry as soon as she could get a divorce, admitted she forgot the name of a bank where she placed $50,000, and chewed gum vigorously with a strained effort to register nonchalance throughout the proceedings.

There were no booping or dooping, but the proceedings moved swiftly toward the point of showing who was duped.

It is all quite complicated, as Miss Kane lapsed in her best hesitating manner, with intermissions of musical nasal cackles. She was serious, very serious, but it was difficult to remember all the money she had lent to her admirer. "Oh, $500 every now and then," as she put it, carelessly.

EXTRA MONEY INVESTIGATED
The point was, and is, that she was recently paid in full—in fact, a lump sum of $50,000—by a man who had lent her $45,000 and she received $50,000. There was controversy about why the extra was paid, and how.

It all came out of the story of the stage and screen singer's business and social relations with Murray Posner, whose dress manufacturing firm has gone bankrupt. She had known Posner for two years. She liked him. He spent money freely, she testified, although the money was often here, as she admitted, in the form of her cheque in a Hollywood night club, but not his. He was her guest for two and one-half months in Hollywood, and was her companion every night or day in New York. She told him all of her financial affairs, but he related very little about his. And so forth.

But it all came to light because in repaying loans Posner paid Miss Kane with his company's cheques, and his company soon after went bankrupt. Then in a bankruptcy hearing before Referee Peter B. Olney Jr. at 7 Day Street, Miss Kane couldn't stand it much longer when asked to make good reply to a receiver's demand that she repay the $50,000. She broke down and cried. She was assisted from the crowded little room, took ten minutes to regain her composure, and returned to the grind of what she said was "a new act for me."

FOOTS HER PERPLEXITIES
Miss Kane contended that she gave the money to Posner to invest in Liberty Bonds, and she did not know until January, or March—she just couldn't remember which—that he had used it for his business. And then there were all kinds of other complications and it was all so confusing.

The hearing adjourned for lunch upon Miss Kane's remark that she was "hungry and tired." In the afternoon she produced a "note," dated March 20, when she paid her income tax. It bore the letterhead of the Bond Drive Company, the bankrupt firm, was signed by Posner, and read:

"This is to certify that I, Murray Posner, owe Helen Kane $50,000. The witness said the extra $5,000 which was repaid was interest. She later testified that about $2,500 of it was from Helen's cash advances, and an account of which she 'trusted to his honor as a gentleman to keep straight.'"

Then, according to her testimony, Posner came to Detroit twice and later to Chicago, asking her for more money, including $7,500 for an attorney, but she said she had asked it all over with her hands and refused his requests, parrying demands for $100,000 until he had paid back what he owed. Then it all started to come out in the bankruptcy hearing.

FORGETS NAME OF BANK
Being a headline and the only witness, Miss Kane stole the show. Shortly after Posner had $40,000 deposited to her credit in New York City, she said, she had left him in Chicago and purchased Liberty Bonds herself, placing them in a safe deposit vault in the name of Mary Marks. She didn't remember the name of the bank where she left the bonds.

She assumed another name for the strong box, she said, because Chicago is "so unsafe." "You know the reputation Chicago has," she said. "I'm even afraid to play there." They held up actors, and if you don't come across they bump you off. Questioned further, she mentioned Harry Richmond, musical comedy headliner and night club principal, as one of many who had received such Chicago threats.

"Chicago just has a bad reputation, that's all," she pouted when questioned further about the safety of the street when they know who I am, and look at me."

She described Posner as her closest friend, and said he had given her a diamond solitaire ring for Christmas. She denied promising to marry him as soon as she could obtain a divorce, insisting that such a matter had never been discussed. She said she knew Posner's sister and had met "a brother, or somebody," she had left money and securities to him. New York bank vault box before, she said, because she knew it was safe, "and it was a big one."

SHELL DIVIDEND OFF
San Francisco, Sept. 5.—The passing of Shell Union Oil Corporation's September quarterly dividend on the common is being cited by pessimists along Montgomery Street as an example of the "bump" that even the largest and strongest companies in times of depressed business conditions generally. However, Shell stock was not unduly depressed by the announcement, the move having been discounted several days before.

turned on Monday evening to Fulford Harbor.

Dr. F. Kincaid of Victoria has been spending a holiday on Salt Spring Island, at guest at the "White House," Fulford Harbor.

Miss Barbara Morse, who arrived recently from England to attend the marriage of her brother, Mr. Morse, of the Sidney Experimental Farm, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Holmes of Ganges Harbor.

AT THE THEATRES

Weeks were spent by Paramount officials selecting a proper location site for the filming of the latest Zane Grey Western to be brought to the screen. "The Border Legion," the current show at the Dominion Theatre, which is an outdoor, all-talking thriller with Richard Arlen, Fay Wray and Jack Holt in the cast. Sites within a radius of seven hundred miles of Hollywood were visited, examined, discussed and listed before the rich gold region near Sonoma, California, in the Sierra-Nevada mountains, was finally chosen.

A special train transported the small army of players and technicians to the location headquarters, 400 miles from Hollywood. Included in the equipment were a locomotive and four coaches which were old when the first Western motion picture was filmed. The period of the Zane Grey story is about 1870. The action deals with the adventurous struggle for gold.

CAPITOL STARRING CLARA BOW IN HER LATEST PICTURE

"Love Among the Millionaires," the musical romance of a waitress, whose love affair with a scion of wealth throws her into high society, is Clara Bow's new starring picture. This picture, which was made by the man who directed "Sweetie," Frank Tuttle, will show at the Capitol Theatre today and Saturday, and in it, Miss Bow has the greatest singing opportunities yet afforded her in talking pictures. In "Love Among the Millionaires," the Redhead has the role of Pepper Whipple, a singing waitress in a railroad junction restaurant. Embellished in a romance with the handsome son of the president of the railroad, she succeeds in disproving the old adage that "oil and water won't mix."

RIN-TIN-TIN HAS LEAD IN GANGSTER PICTURE NOW HERE

Some men, absolutely fearless in other directions, stand in abject dread of a dog. And oddly enough men like this are the ones who are often deserving of the mistrust.

In many cases men's fears may be explained by their having been bitten at some previous time, but in others there seems to be no explanation. It seems simply to be a reasonless, unreasoning fear.

An instance of this strange feeling is brought out in "Rough Waters," the latest Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production starring Rin-Tin-Tin, and now at the Columbia Theatre. A gangster leader is reduced to a craven figure when attacked by Rinty at the climax of this exciting story.

Sons of Canada Oppose Assisted Immigration Here

After attending the ninth annual convention of the Native Sons of Canada in Montreal, A. C. Pike, charter member of the Victoria branch and national treasurer, has returned to the city.

Delegates to the convention were cordially entertained. Mr. Pike said: "Outstanding of the social functions was a banquet in the Windsor Hotel tendered by the city of Montreal."

The convention opposed assisted immigration, favoring its "Canada first" policy of building national sentiment, Mr. Pike stated.

SHIRLEY

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cane of Victoria are spending a week at Manahat Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Clark spent the week-end at Nanaimo.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clark of Victoria camped over the week-end at Muir Creek.

Mrs. T. C. Milligan and family of Victoria were recent visitors at Shirley.

Edwin Clark of Victoria spent the week-end with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Asprey and Connie, Victoria, visited here on Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvil Milligan were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid and Miss Edna Reid of 617 Douglas Street, Victoria; Kenneth Ross, Victoria, and Rev. A. H. Ross and family.

C. Trotter of Victoria has been appointed teacher at the Shirley School.

The Misses Evelyn and Irene Clark have gone to Sooke to attend High School.

Sooke
After spending the summer vacation at her home, Miss Lillian Helgesen has left to take up duties at Half-Moon Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Reid and family, Miss P. Reid and Miss M. Reid have returned to their home in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Richardson are spending a two-weeks' holiday, touring the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Reid Sr. of Seattle is staying with Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson, Murray Road.

Miss Nellie Richardson is the guest of her friend, Miss V. Helgesen.

At the weekly meeting of the Young People's Society of Knox Presbyterian Church, held last Wednesday night, a very interesting address was given by Mr. Tilley of Lakelille.

Where To Go To-night

As advertised
ON THE SCREEN
Capitol—"Love Among the Millionaires," starring Clara Bow.
Columbia—"The Big Pond," starring Maurice Chevalier.
Columbia—"Rough Waters," featuring Rin-Tin-Tin.
Dominion—"The Border Legion," with Jack Holt.
Playhouse—"Border Romance," starring Armida.
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

WILD HORSE FIGHT EXCITING FEATURE OF PLAYHOUSE FILM

A fight between two wild horses is one of the thrills in the Tiffany production, "Border Romance," current at the Playhouse Theatre. A weirdly-marked black and white horse slips down a bank to a river and swims through a rapid current, sometimes going out of sight, then climbing up the bank and challenging the big black. There on the sandy bank of the river they bite and kick and shriek in a thrilling fight.

Armida, Don Terry, Marjorie Kane, Wesley Barry, Vic Potel and others are in the cast of "Border Romance," an original story by John Francis Natteford, directed by Richard Thorpe and supervised by Lester Scott. RCA Photophone recorded.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT WITH CHEVALIER AT COLISEUM THEATRE

Claudette Colbert speaks perfect Parisian French without a trace of English accent.

Maurice Chevalier, Parisian of Parisians, is the authority for this statement.

And Claudette Colbert speaks English without a trace of French accent, so millions of stage and screen theatre-goers who have seen and heard will admit.

The explanation of this unusual bilingualism is that Miss Colbert was born in France and lived there until she was in her early teens. Then she went to the United States with her parents and attended schools here until she made her stage debut a few years ago. In the intervening years she mastered English without acquiring any suggestion of French accent.

Her complete mastery of the two languages provided her with the unusual opportunity of playing the leading feminine role opposite Chevalier in both the American and French all-talking versions of "The Big Pond," in which "the big happiness man from Paris" is starring at the Coliseum Theatre all this week.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FOR ASTHMA

"I want every Asthma sufferer in this district to try my treatment entirely at my risk. Go to your druggist and get a package of my Asthmador and should it fail to give instant relief, the druggist will cheerfully refund your money without any question whatever." This was the standing offer made by Dr. Schiffmann which was accepted by thousands and thousands of sufferers—and this generous offer holds good to-day.

No matter how violent the attack, how obstinate the case, or what else has failed, Asthmador or Asthmador Cigarettes will give instant relief, usually in 10 seconds, but always within 15 minutes. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials abundantly prove what Dr. Schiffmann's remedy has done, and we know it will do the same for others.

So certain is it that Asthmador will produce instant relief, and will be found thoroughly satisfactory in every way, that your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you should happen to be the one case in thousands that is not relieved by the use of Asthmador.

PEP for flavor—extra bran for health

JUST ONE TASTE! And you'll agree that Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes are better bran flakes.

You'd never believe that bran flakes could be so sun-brown and crisp—so full of glorious flavor—the matchless flavor of PEP.

A tempting treat that's as healthful as it is good. The crunchy whole wheat brings quick energy—the extra bran helps to keep you feeling fit. There's just enough added to be mildly laxative.

Have them for lunch today. For breakfast tomorrow. They're great for every one—at every meal.

Look for Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes in the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

IMPORTANT—Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes are mildly laxative. ALL BRAN—another Kellogg product—is all bran and guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

In "Vengeance," the Columbia all-talking drama of West African life coming to the Playhouse Theatre next week. Previous productions in which they have appeared are "Submarine," "The Donnan Affair," and "Father and Son."

WATERFRONT PROPERTY
WE HAVE CONSISTENTLY ADVISED purchase of waterfront property in or about Victoria as a safe investment with every indication of capital appreciation. This advice has been taken by many of our clients in the past, and they are now in a position to reveal if they so wish at handsome profits. At this moment we are able to offer a parcel of waterfront property on a southern slope of Cadboro Bay, running up to Seaview Road, at an extremely low price and on very favorable terms.

The property is known as "Miramonte" and can be reached by a short drive from Cadboro Bay Beach Hotel. Look this property over during the week-end and ring us up Tuesday when we shall be glad to explain all details.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5
Winifred Ilace Roskelley, 2566 Fifth Street, Victoria, B.C. (2)
Hazel Dorothy Brewer, 38 Crease Avenue, Victoria, B.C. (2).

Young Richelleu Was "Poor Little Rich Boy."
"See that the gate is locked," commanded Armand de Richelleu's mother. The boy went off with a servant, torch in hand, to make sure that the great gate of the chateau was firmly locked and bolted. The chateau stood in the midst of a wild, desolate country, and they were always in danger of raids from bold robber bands.

Back to the great, stately hall, hung with rich tapestries, they went. The tall candles gleamed over the long carved table as the mother and the five little Richelleu children sat down to dinner.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Victoria Radio Listeners Club will meet to-night at 8 o'clock in Temple Hall, North Park Street.

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving faster than fifteen miles an hour past a school, W. Greenhalgh was fined $15 in City Police Court this morning.

The stop watch competition of the Britannia Branch, No. 7, Canadian Legion, B.E.L., was drawn at the last general meeting and won by C. H. Greaves, 1317 Pandora, ticket No. 509.

It is important that all girls attend the Rotary pageant rehearsal to-night, as on Monday night the full thirty-seven-piece band will be in attendance. All girls who have not received costumes may do so to-night.

Appointment of Francis R. Exelm, Acting Deputy Registrar of the Victoria Land Registry Office to the position of Deputy Registrar is announced in this week's B.C. Gazette. He takes the place of F. J. Ward, who is superannuated.

Arthur Gordon F. Freeze of Alberni has been relieved of his duties of police magistrate for Alberni and Port Alberni, according to a notice of the B.C. Gazette to-day. The notice says that his appointment has been rescinded. Two other resignations have been received. G. A. C. Roberts, M.D., of Queen Charlotte Islands, has resigned as justice of the peace. James G. Galt has resigned as stipendiary magistrate for the county of Prince Rupert.

"JOBURG" MAN SAYS CANADA IS BEST BET

Stanley Banks, Here From Rand City, May Return and Settle

Canada's Resources and Confidence of People Will Aid Country in Its Recovery

"I have now visited all the Dominions and have reached the conclusion that Canada is the best bet," declared Stanley Banks, for thirty years a resident of South Africa and a prominent businessman of Johannesburg, who is in the city to-day.

In making reference to the business slump that has affected all the countries of the world, Mr. Banks observed that this country was holding its head up as cheerfully as any, and by reason of its inexhaustible resources and the unbounded confidence of its people, would be among the first of the countries to recover from the temporary setback.

Mr. and Mrs. Banks reached Victoria yesterday from the east and are registered at the Dominion Hotel. They traveled over the Canadian National Railways from Toronto and came down the coast from Prince Rupert. The next few weeks will be spent in the United States.

Mr. Banks and his wife set out from "Joburg" primarily on a holiday tour. He is so impressed with the progressiveness of Canada that he may yet decide to leave his large drug business in the Rand metropolis and come out here to settle. In any event he is seriously considering the idea of bringing one of his two sons, just out of school, to Canada to grow up with the country. "I have only been out here a month, but I like what I have seen of it," said Mr. Banks.

He went on to say that Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver are all reflecting the prosperity of Canada. Victoria attracts him, although he has only been here a few hours.

DUMP PROBLEM SOLVED

Questioned as to developments in South Africa, Mr. Banks said the country was feeling the effects of the worldwide depression. Johannesburg, in his opinion, is one of the outstanding cities of the world. Its development was indelibly linked up with the gold mining of the country.

In explaining the extent of gold mining in South Africa, Mr. Banks pointed out that the "reef" extended for a distance of thirty miles, every section of which is being worked.

The problem of the "dumps," he said, has been solved, by filling up the used workings with the material forming them.

These dumps were in some cases as high as some of the public buildings. After seeing the United States and Mrs. Banks plan to sail for London and will return via the Union-Castle Line to Cape Town.

"I may be back here next year," he said in concluding the interview.

Connaught Institute—Yesterday afternoon the September meeting of the Victoria Connaught Seamen's Institute was held at the institute, Superior Street, when plans for the coming season were discussed. The president, Mrs. Alice Thompson, was heartily welcomed and congratulated by the members upon her splendid recovery from the effects of her painful accident of some months ago. The secretary, Mrs. R. Sayer, read a number of communications from Captain Barker, London, acknowledging with satisfaction the receipt of the annual report, a letter re British films to be shown at the Coliseum Theatre beginning on September 30, and letters of thanks for flowers. Mrs. Sayer gave the number of men attending the institute during the past month as 240, and seventeen apprentice boys. The treasurer presented the financial statement for the year, which was received with appreciation, and the thanks of the members for the excellent work it represented. The house committee, Madame Claudet and Mrs. W. McManis, were instructed to order certain necessary repairs. Mrs. Shorrocks was appointed as Jubilee Hospital visitor, and Mrs. W. Finmore as visitor to St. Joseph's, and funds for fruit, magazines and smokes, voted to each. Mrs. Sayer spoke on relief work, and Mrs. Gordon Smith, as treasurer, was given authority to attend to some necessary expenditures. The president announced that thirty-two boxes of books and magazines had been sent by St. Eleanore to the lighthouse through the courtesy of Colonel Wilby from the Victoria Seamen's Institute. Tea was served at the adjournment of the meeting.

END SESSION THIS MORNING

Majority of Pacific Coast Ophthalmologists Leave on Seattle Boat

Business Meeting and Round Table Luncheon Closes Three-day Convention

This afternoon's boat to Seattle carried the majority of the members of the Pacific Coast Ophthalmological Society back home after a three-day convention at the Empress Hotel. The session closed this morning with a business meeting, speaking session and round table luncheon discussion.

Yesterday the members and their wives took part in a golf tournament at Colwood, and in the evening the men of the party held a stag dinner in the Empress.

The whole convention has run off very smoothly under the direction of Dr. J. M. Keys, convention manager, and a three-day gathering has been proclaimed in every way a success by the 70 odd members present. The fact the British Medical Association members have been in the city at the same time has made the convention of special interest.

This morning's programme follows: "Significance of Blood Count," Dr. H. Nickson, Seattle.

"Keratitis Exfoliativa Arsenicalis," Dr. Frederick Hyde, Port Angeles.

Discussion opened by Dr. Walter F. Hoffman, Seattle.

"Skull Fracture Complicated by Spinal Fluid Drainage from the Ear," Dr. Albert B. Murphy, Everett.

Discussion opened by Dr. A. T. Wamaker, Seattle.

"A Review of Recent Observations in Vienna," Dr. Grant Lawrence, Vancouver.

Discussion opened by Dr. Colin Graham, Vancouver.

"Metastatic Abscess of Iris and Ciliary Body," Dr. Warren D. Horner, San Francisco.

Discussion opened by Dr. A. B. Dykman, Portland, and Dr. Jerome Thomas, Palo Alto.

Dr. J. M. Keys, convention manager, declared the convention a success and will act as interim moderator and will have oversight of the congregation.

Reports of the General Assembly meetings that were held in Hamilton, Ont., in June, were presented by the two-day delegates, R. H. McEwen and R. C. Douglas.

A resolution of appreciation was passed expressing the thanks of the Presbytery to the retiring moderator, Rev. H. P. S. Luitell, for his conduct of church business during his year of office.

Reminiscences of his work as a student at Sooke, Metchoin and William Head thirty-eight years ago were given by Dr. Duncan Campbell of New Westminster, who in his address told of the progress of Christian work in British Columbia during the intervening period. Dr. Campbell gave a pleasing account of the work of the Victoria Presbytery in the Cariboo under the famous Dr. James Robertson, and in the Kootenays, and was for many years minister in Chilliwack.

The mantle of moderator for the coming year fell upon Rev. John McCutcheon, minister of the Nanaimo congregation. This congregation is engaged in building a new church in the centre of the city, which will cost $10,000, and have a seating capacity of 300. Favorable reports were made of the home mission work of the presbytery, and of the progress of the Renfrew hall, which good progress during the past summer under James Milroy, student of Knox College, and Port Alberni, where Rev. T. M. McAllister, minister, is also at work in need of a proper meeting hall.

Standing committees for the year were drafted as follows: Missionary: Rev. H. P. S. Luitell, convenor, Rev. L. S. Junior, and Rev. W. C. Douglas and George McCandlish; budget: Rev. T. Humphries, A. Cruickshank, W. S. Jameson and R. H. McEwen; Sabbath schools and young people societies: Revs. T. McAllister and J. McCutcheon; George E. Davidson; Revs. A. O. Thompson, J. McCutcheon, R. H. McEwen, W. C. Douglas and G. E. Davidson; benevolence: Revs. S. Luitell and R. M. Rollo. Thomas Humphries continues as Presbytery clerk.

FRANK TALK ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Employers' and Workers' Delegates Discuss Subject This Morning

Unemployment and possible ways of relieving the situation were discussed from all angles at a meeting of the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and members of the Building Trades Council at the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Employers entered into a frank discussion with the workers' representatives and outlined the problems they had to face and gave sympathetic consideration to the other side of the question. The meeting was one of a series held by the Chamber of Commerce committee named to consider the problem.

The committee which represents many classes of employers consists of R. Hayward, chairman; N. A. Yarrow, J. Taylor, J. E. Hetherington, J. Cameron, R. H. Horton, F. K. Nickells, B. R. Ker, H. J. Pendry, Tom Walker, W. A. Luney, A. J. Watson, W. H. Crisford, Walter Miles and W. F. Pinfold.

LIQUOR, WORK ON

SABBATH FLAYED BY PRESBYTERY

Resignation of Rev. J. S. Patterson From Pastorate of St. Paul's Accepted

Rev. A. O. Thomson Appointed Interim Moderator at Meeting Yesterday Afternoon

The Presbytery of Victoria expressed alarm in no uncertain terms at what was held to be an "increasing use of alcoholic beverages" and also at desecration of the Sabbath, during the course of the afternoon session yesterday.

The first resolution deprecated the "growing demand for additional facilities for the sale of such beverages" and the second resolution deprecated the use of alcoholic beverages by the people of this province, and the growing demand by interested parties for additional facilities for the sale of such beverages. It was therefore resolved that this Presbytery request the Provincial Government not to increase the number of licenses for the sale of alcoholic beverages on our highways, where the traveling public may be exposed to the danger of accident due to intoxicated motorists.

In view of the increasing tendency to Sabbath desecration, the Presbytery of Victoria would urge upon all Christians to discourage in every way possible all forms of unnecessary work on the Lord's Day. We regret that so many organizations find it necessary to hold their annual competitive games on Sunday. Believing that the Christian Sabbath is one of the great bulwarks of the nation, we call upon all its friends to assist in every way possible the proper observance of this great institution.

The resignation of Rev. J. S. Patterson from the pastorate of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Victoria, which was accepted, Rev. A. O. Thomson, minister of the George and Esplanade churches, was appointed to deliver the resolution to the congregation at the evening service on Sunday next, declaring the pulpit vacant. Mr. Thomson will act as interim moderator and will have oversight of the congregation.

Reports of the General Assembly meetings that were held in Hamilton, Ont., in June, were presented by the two-day delegates, R. H. McEwen and R. C. Douglas.

A resolution of appreciation was passed expressing the thanks of the Presbytery to the retiring moderator, Rev. H. P. S. Luitell, for his conduct of church business during his year of office.

QUESTION RIGHTS OF MUNICIPALITY AT MT. DOUGLAS

Residents Seek to Stop Removal of Gravel From Park and Building of Road

Violation of rights given under Crown grant at Mount Douglas Park through removal of gravel, clearing of trees and a proposed roadway, is alleged by residents of the district, who, it is reported, are taking steps to prevent spilling of this park area.

Maintaining that the Mount Douglas section was given to the corporation of the city of Victoria for preservation and maintenance as a public park of pleasure ground, it is understood that the city will shortly bring the matter before the notice of the City Council.

Legal action may be taken in the matter, it was stated by a representative of the interested residents to-day. Counsel has already been secured and instructed to bring the question to the notice of city authorities.

FIT FENCED OFF

While under provincial statute, a municipality is given the right to remove gravel from any pit within its limits, it is a question whether or not Crown grant lands are exempt, it is claimed. The gravel pit at Mount Douglas has been fenced off from the road and the entrance is kept locked. Sale of gravel from the pit to private companies, is also alleged.

Several acres of trees were removed from a section of the park and the timber sawed into cordwood and carried away last year, according to the claimants. A proposal is across one section of the park, it is claimed. It is this project, which spurred the residents to action, they say.

REVEE REPLIES

Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, when informed of the charges to-day, said he was unaware of anything unusual in the situation. Nothing was done by Saanich at the park except with the sanction of the city of Victoria, he said. Any work done there was with the idea of improving the place and was carried out through the Victoria and Saanich Parks and Beaches committee, he added.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Mary (Molly) Stevens will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from McCall Bros. Funeral Home. Rev. Daniel Walker will conduct the service, at which interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

OPTIMISM SHOWN

BY REAL ESTATE MEN AT PARLEY

Belief in Better Times Ahead By Delegates to Convention, Board Told

Organization of Property Owners' Association Here Is Discussed

A high note of optimism for the future of real estate and conditions in general pervaded the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate Convention in Longview, Washington, recently, members of the Victoria board were told at their luncheon in Spencer's private dining-room to-day. The entire meeting was taken up with reports to the body by the different local delegates to the session.

Giving some of his impressions of the gathering Major Kirkpatrick Crockett noted that the convention city was the most modern in town planning, zoning and other public works for its size in North America. Parking places and boulevards, both utilitarian and beautiful, were arranged in the city, he said.

As far as the convention body was concerned, Major Crockett stated, it showed a far higher degree of optimism than any recent conference. The utmost courtesy had been extended to all visitors, he added.

Further impressions were given by Major Cuthbert Holmes, who dealt with some of the addresses given at the gathering. Many big men had attended to give talks. Raymond S. Frazier, president of Washington Mutual Savings Bank of Seattle, stressed the view that property owning was one of the finest counteracting agents against unrest. Mr. Frazier made quite an attack on some of the state bank legislation, which aimed to cripple savings banks by increasing the tax on their gross assets.

Like other delegates, Mr. Frazier was confident of brighter times in the future.

PROPERTY OWNERS ORGANIZE

Development of a property owners' organization was outlined by William Merry of Portland, who noted the strength of such a body. The organization aimed chiefly to reduce taxation on property and to increase it on other taxable things.

ADVERTISING

Reports on "Advertising" were given by A. D. Pearson, "Throughout Longview he had found a conspicuous absence of 'For Sale' signs."

From the real estate editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, the delegates had learned the best methods of getting space for real estate business. Classified advertising, and the value of "scattering" notices throughout the paper, was of greater value than collecting it in one bundle, the delegates were told.

The story of the "Five-minute Talk" contest, boasting the respective cities the delegates represented, was told by Fred Landsberg.

Advantage of the establishment of a property owners' division to the local board was briefly outlined by Mr. Landsberg, who noted the benefit such an organization would be both to the public and the real estate men.

Referring to advertising, the speaker reported Mr. Merry's remarks that it was high time for the different boards to educate the public to the benefits of real estate.

Speaking of the headlines he had collected during the week, R. Musgrave stated the majority of his clippings showed a strong note of optimism. He showed the movement of grain was very favorable. He also referred to the increase in sale of reversed lands in Saanich and growth in building as well as other items of interest in local papers.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—Wheat: Displayed a much firmer tone to-day and after opening about half cent higher made further gains and held very steady throughout the most of the day around 1 1/2 cents above the close last night.

During the first hour there was some excellent buying for seaboard wheat and exporters' overnight sales finally placed around 1,350,000 of Manitoba, one-third being done by the pool.

The trade rather thin later, but there was a fair amount of short covering and spreading operations between the different months going on and a little buying by the elevator company which seemed to indicate that they had slightly over-estimated themselves yesterday in their hedging operations.

The pool were credited with being good sellers of October wheat, but otherwise offerings were light and very little hedging pressure was in evidence. Sentiment generally was a little more friendly, prices having reached the lowest levels in sixteen days.

Reports from the U.S. were to the effect that farmers and livestock feeders were buying low grade wheats in increasing quantities, both in the south and north and there is now every assurance that wheat feeding for all purposes will be unusually large, a condition that will likely have a decided effect marketwise later in the season.

The cash situation in the U.S. is also firming up. In the local cash market there was a good demand for all grades, particularly the top grades which were trading at one-quarter better. Durums were also in good demand and half to one cent better were offered for round lots. Offerings generally were only moderate.

The weather in the west continues clear and very favorable for threshing. Country marketings yesterday were 1,400,000 bushels vs. 2,300,000 a year ago. Liverpool was decidedly strong, closing 1 1/2 up when due lower.

Some complaints of lack of moisture to start crop growth are coming from Argentina. Chicago wheat closed about 2 cents higher and corn 1/2 lower, and it was stated that commercial interests were buying wheat against sales corn. Winnipeg market closed strong at the top for the day and into the daily offers, showing gains from last night 1 1/2 to 2c.

Contract grain—These markets continued dull and featureless, a very small trade passing, however, offerings were higher in sympathy with the strength in wheat. Cash market quiet and confined to the odd cars.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, Sept. 5.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day: LAST DECLINE

"I believe the only logical way to view this period of hesitancy and minor reaction which has come into the market prior to its penetration of the top of the accumulation zone is to look upon it as the last reaction prior to a general broad advance, which will be featured in the month of September. To say that the reaction will be confined to two points or three, and to attempt to forecast that it will end exactly on a given day is undoubtedly attempting to draw the line too fine.

"Except for the day to day trade, it is relatively unimportant whether the retracement is two points or double that amount, and whether it consumes a day and a half or three or four days. The important thing is that the market is hesitating and gaining technical strength at the top range of the accumulation zone, and that it will end by passing out of that zone and advancing to substantially higher levels and that in the meantime it is absorbing and getting out of way a lot of bad news, particularly in the form of dividend reductions and omissions.

"Already the market has lost enough from the top established just before the holiday to call for a fairly sharp rally which, I anticipate, will be in effect to-day, accompanied by a return of money rates to the two per cent level.

"Stocks are a purchase on each and every moderate period of weakness which appears from now on, with the only thing needed to return substantial profit being patience, which can be gained by not expecting too much to be accomplished by a relatively dull market in any single day session.

"The basic thought that we are now witnessing what will be the market's last decline, culminating in what will be the best buying prices for the balance of 1930 is, of course, the expectation of a business recovery. Many evidences contributing to the idea that we have already made the turn have been pointed out here for weeks, and while they have dwelt solely on the domestic aspect of the situation, do not think we need give much attention to the criticism which may come from those who consider that they are of no value because they do not take into account the so-called situation in Europe. This, if anything, I believe is favorable, in that it has a valuable precedent in 1921, which represented as closely the present business situation as anything in recent market history. The latter portion of that year saw the United States forging ahead, whereas even late 1922 had not yet seen the upturn in Europe.

"The 1921 depression was just as world-wide in scope as it has been this year, but the inherent vitality of the United States, and its excellent banking control and business executive brains, created the same kind of a turn ahead of Europe that year as I believe it will in this."

New B.C. Companies Get Incorporation

New B.C. companies granted incorporation at the Parliament Buildings this week are:

W. A. Bay Garage Ltd., with capital at $20,000, and registered office at Victoria, general garage business.

A. E. Wilson and Company Limited, registered office at Victoria, general business, with head office for Canada at Toronto, and British Columbia headquarters at Vancouver, general insurance agency.

B. C. Food Products Limited, $50,000, Vancouver, grain and milling business.

B. & K. Economy Stores Limited, $100,000, Vancouver, grocers.

Half-pint Golf Courses Prove Real Gold Mines

New York, Sept. 5.—Wiffy Cox, who was pacemaker for Bobby Jones during the first two rounds at Interlachen and who scored the famous 67 at Lido on Long Island in the 1929 Met Open, has discovered a gold mine for golf pros.

Wiffy has built up an exhibition circuit of Tom Thumb courses and is barnstorming the miniature layouts in the Coney Island sector of Brooklyn, near Dyker Beach, his home course. Know in golf as an in-and-out putter, he believes the miniature greens are great for practice putting.

Wiffy is one of a number of famous pros who are entering for the National Open miniature tournament to be held on Lookout Mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn., October 20-22. Money prizes already announced by Grantland Rice, chairman of the tournament committee, total $7,500.

STEEL OPERATIONS WORKING HIGHER

Operations of the iron and steel industry are working steadily higher and Iron Age reports increase in ingot producing activities for the third successive week. The advance to 55 per cent of capacity last week from a 54 per cent rate in the previous week was unlooked for, as it is normal for operations to fall off on the eve of the Labor Day holiday. In August shipments of pig iron from Cleveland and Chicago were up 25 per cent and 30 per cent, respectively, from the previous month. But the most encouraging trend is the firming of prices for finished steel, which has declined $4 to $13 a ton in the last year.

STOCKS SPURT FORWARD ON BUYING RUSH

Industrial Averages Gain 4.35 Points For the Day and Close Above 240

Leading Issues Rise Quickly and Easily, Throwing Fear Into Bears

Woolworth Returns Taken as Indicating Business Has Taken Turn For Better

New York, Sept. 5. (B.C. Bond) —At the close of the market this afternoon, the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 240.37, up 4.35 points for the day; and for twenty rails at 131.32, up .35 points; and for twenty utilities at 86.10, up 1.44 points.

Sales for the day totaled 1,644,800 shares.

Call money held at 2 1/2 per cent all day.

Leading stocks in New York turned upward on renewed buying. Price movement on the Stock Exchange demonstrated that the main body of stocks had derived considerable technical strengthening from the irregularity of the two previous sessions. Selling in the closing minutes of both Wednesday and Thursday, and the failure of these drives to bring out important liquidation increased confidence regarding the underlying soundness of the market.

Bullish interests also derived encouragement from the $8,000,000 expansion in brokers' loans last week. This gain in volume was a reflection of a demand for the recovery of public interest in the market. This suggestion that outside following has been attracted by the recent upswing in the general market was taken to reflect a better feeling regarding the business outlook, and the principal stocks developed a greatly improved tone.

Optimism regarding trade prospects also was granted by the statement of the National Association of Manufacturers, that the company's sales had turned definitely for the better on August 9, and that each succeeding week since then had shown considerable gains. Sears and Montgomery Ward were also strong.

Why Not Establish an Open Season When Buck-passers, Whether They Do It in the Name of Sweet Charity or Subtly in the Name of Friendship, May Be Shot at Sight

IF EVER I commit murder, the victim of my homicidal fury will be one of those sweet, smiling individuals who is always passing the buck. You know whom I mean. The people who always somehow manage to stand under. The people who never do anything themselves, but always see that George does his bit. The philanthropists who never give anything to charity themselves, but who always hand around the subscription list for every good cause. The patriots who never go to the front, but who make the welkin ring with their exhortations to everyone else to fight for their country.

You could fire a few scattering shots in the dark and bring down a dozen expert buck-passers yourself for Heaven help us, none of us is lucky enough to escape having among our friends men and women who have an uncanny ability of dodging all of their own responsibilities and shoving them on to somebody else's shoulders.

Chief among these buck-passers are the fathers and mothers who expect the schools to pluck-bit for them as parents. They are too weak and spineless to discipline their children and make them behave. They are too lazy and hate trouble too much to teach their children any morals and manners, so they send a bunch of hoodlums to school and demand that the poor, hard-worked teachers do for their offspring what they have failed to do and turn them into little ladies and gentlemen with a high sense of ethical values.

What are these advocates of teaching religion and sex and cooking and sewing and so on in the public schools—teaching things that children should learn at their mothers' knees? One of the most accomplished artists in this line that I have ever known was once telling me how economical she was. "Why, Miss Dix," she said, "my husband hasn't had a new suit in four years, nor a new overcoat since we were married." But I observed that she always looked like a Daily Hint from Paris.

Sometimes the domestic buck-passer is the husband, who steps out every night in glad raiment while his wife stays at home and pinches on the milk bill to save the money that he spends in buying drinks for flappers at night clubs.

And always there are expert buck-passers among the children, who invariably manage to unload their parents on Brother John or Sister Sue. You practically never see all of the children sharing equally in the care and support of their father and mother. One bears the burden while the others go free. And it is only the buck-passers themselves who know how they inveigled John and Mary into becoming the family goats.

Chief among the buck-passers who are of the common or garden variety of social pests are our friends who make us do their charity for them and fulfill their social obligations and who generally acquire merit at our expense. They are strong for all sorts of causes, and their hearts are touched by the sad story of the suffering Armenian, or the babies in Afghanistan who have no pacifiers, but their sympathies do not reach their own pocketbooks.

They merely make them grab for ours. They don't head the subscription list themselves. They sick the professional beggar on to us, and he or she comes with a recommendation from Mr. A. or Mrs. B., who has furnished our names to the solicitor, and told him or her what a noble altruistic person we are, and how sure we are to respond to such an appeal.

The same way with our buck-passing friends who, for some reason, lack the courage to say "no" and shut the door in the face of bond salesmen and lace salesmen and table linen and embroidery salesmen and book agents and so on. They don't buy themselves, but they seek to ingratiate themselves by sending salesmen on to us.

Then there are the buck-passers who always expect you to get jobs for their friends or relatives. They always know so many talented college graduates, or some worthy man with five small children who would just suit you, or if they wouldn't suit you they are sure that if you would just take a little trouble you could place them. But it never seems to occur to these buck-passers to do anything about it themselves, or that they might make any effort in behalf of their proteges.

Worst of all the buck-passers, however, because they are the most numerous, are those who make you pay their social debts by sending people to you with letters of introduction.

They hear that one of their friends is coming to your city. "Ah," they cry gleefully to themselves, "here is where I make myself solid with the Tom Tinklers and with no expense whatever to myself and with no trouble or bother."

So they give the Tom Tinklers a letter of introduction to you, requesting you to show them the town, and unless you wish to insult both your friend and the Tinklers, you have to spend your time and your money and put yourself to all sorts of trouble entertaining people who may bore you to tears, whom you never saw before and whom you hope to Heaven you will never see again. And all to make a Roman holiday for a buck-passer.

All of which is respectfully submitted, and if I ever get elected to Congress I am going to present a bill asking that it be made lawful to slay buck-passers at sight. And no closed season for the sport.

Wood Alcohol Can Poison You Even if You Don't Drink It

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Everyone fears wood alcohol. Enough cases of blindness and death have resulted and been widely reported in the press to cause intense fear among the public. Even the most persistent consumers of bootleg of unknown ancestry can be caused to shudder by the insinuation that the molasses-colored fluid in the bottle may have some of the dangerous wood alcohol in it.

Until recently practically all of the dangerous wood alcohol or methyl alcohol used in the United States was produced by the destructive distillation of wood. Through modern chemical research it has become possible to produce methyl alcohol from water gas and hydrogen at a price so low that it is trifling as compared with the previous cost of this substance.

Hence the newer synthetic wood alcohol, under the name methanol, is being urged for many industrial uses, for which it formerly would not have been considered. Among these uses particularly are the possibility of adaptation to antifreeze mixtures in automobiles, and as a solvent for shellac and varnish.

One of the things that make methanol or wood alcohol more dangerous than other fluid poisons is the fact that it vaporizes easily and that inhalation of the vapors can poison as well as taking into the stomach. The poison is cumulative in its effects.

Obviously a lot of automobiles standing in a closed garage with the radiator mixtures boiling, when the cars are brought in for the night, will give off a lot of wood alcohol into the air. It is not unreasonable to anticipate that the extensive use of wood alcohol in automobile radiators during the coming winter will yield a considerable crop of cases of blindness and death among garage attendants. Even if precautions and warnings are circulated, some accidents will probably occur.

When wood alcohol is used as a solvent for shellac and varnishes it is also a hazard. In large industries such shellac and varnishes are used only in rooms with spraying booths and proper ventilation facilities. In the home and in small industries shellac and varnishes are frequently used in basements or in closed rooms and closets in the winter. Under such circumstances it is possible to inhale enough wood alcohol to produce serious symptoms.

Unfortunately the treatment of wood alcohol poisoning is not especially successful. When the blindness starts but much can be done to stop it. For the general symptoms it is customary to clean out the system, to put the patient at rest, to give alkalis to overcome the acid condition produced, and to try to sustain the patient until his system can get rid of the poison and recover.

It has been the history of modern industry that it introduces new hazards and takes no steps to control them until accidents and deaths have occurred. That has been the history of the introduction of ethyl gas and of refrigeration gases. What is going to be done about controlling synthetic wood alcohol?

VICTORIAN IS INVENTOR OF FOG WHISTLE

Capt. George Stavrakov Today Making Tests on Ferry
in Puget Sound

Capt. George Stavrakov, of Victoria, is to-day in Seattle testing out on Puget Sound a new safety device, an automatic Janus whistle which he and Capt. Robert Kamdron, of Seattle, have invented to make travel at sea more safe in dense fog, particularly in dangerous inland waters. Both the veteran sea-captains have been working on their safety device for many years and the Janus device, which works on the principle of sound, is particularly perfect to such a degree that fog banks, one of the greatest dangers encountered by shipping, will be conquered by it. A series of tests will be made on Puget Sound in the foggy days that are now setting in for the season.

The new whistle indicates the course the vessel is following by the length of the interval between blasts and, has been installed on the Bremerton ferry boats Seattle and Chippewa. A party of prominent Seattle shipping men were aboard the Seattle on the Bremerton-Seattle run this afternoon making practical tests of the new invention. The device, which works automatically, broadcasts signals that indicate the direction the vessel is proceeding and will minimize the danger of collision in foggy weather. Capt. Stavrakov when he was in Victoria recently, "Successful demonstration of the whistle have been made in Europe. The ferry steamer Seattle and Chippewa are the first vessels on this coast to be equipped with the device which we hope will prove successful out here too."

RUTH ALEXANDER WITH GOOD LIST

Capt. Frank Landstrom brought his command, the liner Ruth Alexander, alongside the Rithet piers last night at 11 o'clock from California ports, and this morning at 1 o'clock to her berth at again and headed her for Seattle, at which port he completed his voyage this morning.

There was another capacity list of passengers aboard the Ruth this trip, many of whom left here. Among these were Mrs. T. Armstrong, Mrs. L. Acton, Miss E. A. Perry, Miss Audrey Potter, Mrs. M. S. Russell, Miss F. E. Rowland, Leslie Rowland, Fred Reynolds, James Reynolds, Miss M. Ship, A. C. Thomas, W. M. Webster, Mrs. E. Wolter, Miss W. Worthington, C. R. Williams and A. Walling.

ARGENTINA BARS ILL JAPANESE

Buenos Aires, Sept. 5.—The sanitary authorities here to-day refused permission to land to fifty-five Japanese emigrants who arrived aboard the steamship Kamekura Maru. All were infected with trachoma and will be returned to Kobe.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Sept. 5.—A party of shipping men here made a trip to-day on the Seattle-Bremerton ferry to test a new device to conquer fog by the automatic Janus whistle. The inventors are Captains Robert Kamdron, Seattle, and George Stavrakov, Victoria, B.C. The device is supposed to broadcast signals indicating the course the vessel is following by the length of intervals between blasts in order to minimize danger of collision.

New Japanese Liner Welcomed Here To-day

Ms. Hiye Maru Clips Several Hours Off Trans-Pacific
Voyage During Trip
Great Northern President and
New Ship Welcomed By Mayor Anselcomb

Victoria this afternoon welcomed the second of the three motor liners built for the trans-Pacific service of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha when the Hiye Maru docked at the Ogden Point piers from ports in China and Japan. She arrived nearly twenty-four hours ahead of schedule and bettered by several hours the record made by the first of the new ships, the Hikawa Maru, on her maiden voyage in May. The Hiye was met at the docks here by a party headed by Mayor Anselcomb, who welcomed the new liner and Capt. S. Takahashi to the capital city of British Columbia.

The gangway and waiting room at Ogden Point were gay with flags and bunting and a large placard bidding the new ship welcome occupied a place of honor above the entrance. The city office of the N.Y.K. on Government Street was bright to-day with flags of Canada, Japan and the United States and a large framed photograph of the new ship. A large party of officials of the N.Y.K. and the Great Northern Railway arrived this afternoon to welcome the new ship here and to continue with her to Seattle.

O.N. PARTY ABOARD

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern Railway Company, was a passenger along with several other officials of his company. They were returning from Russia where they were several months ago to advise the Soviet Government on the re-establishment of its railways. After being welcomed to Victoria by Mayor Anselcomb and his party, Mr. Budd left the liner for a short tour around the city, returning to the ship in time to continue to Seattle.

The Hiye brought a large list of passengers on her maiden voyage, there being 138 travelers in all classes. Of these ten tourist cabin and ten steerage were for Victoria while twenty-four first class, thirty-six tourist cabin and fifty-eight steerage went on to Seattle. For Victoria the liner had fifty tons of general cargo and a good consignment of mail for Canada.

The Hiye Maru is identical in exterior appearance to her sister-ship the Hikawa Maru, which is now well-known here. Her interior accommodation is also the same except that the furnishings and decorations are done in Japanese style instead of French as on the Hikawa. The third ship of the line, the third ship of the line, will arrive in January on her maiden voyage. Her decorations and furnishings will be in old English style. The Hiye has accommodation for 138 passengers in tourist, cabin and steerage and a large number of berths for crew members. The ship is also equipped with a large number of lifeboats and other safety equipment.

CHANGES IN FISH TREATY SUGGESTED

Washington Interests Give
General Approval to Canada-
U.S. Salmon Pact

Seattle, Sept. 5.—Adoption of the International Fishery Salmon Fishing Treaty between the United States and Canada, with two reservations, was approved by Washington pressmen at a hearing held here yesterday before United States Senators Wesley L. Jones and C. C. Dill.

The treaty, designed to restore and protect the sockeye salmon fishing industry of Puget Sound and the Fraser River, was passed by the Canadian parliament last May, but was held up in the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate during the last session because of protests of Washington fishing interests.

THE RESERVATIONS

The reservations asked by Washington fishermen were that the high seas between the forty-eighth and forty-ninth parallels of latitude should not be included in the treaty and that the commission provided for by the treaty should not have power to describe the mesh and web of fishing gear used to catch sockeye salmon.

Guy E. Kelley of Tacoma representing the Puget Sound Fishermen's Association, said the reservations would not hinder the programme of sockeye preservation and that without the reservations the treaty would do serious damage to the sockeye fishery of Washington.

The commission provided for in the agreement would be composed of three men from Canada and three from the United States and would have broad powers to regulate sockeye salmon fishing in the area affected.

Senator Dill said the records would be gone over carefully before the next session of Congress and an effort would be made to arrange a treaty satisfactory to all.

PRESIDENT SHIP TO ARRIVE FROM ORIENT TO-NIGHT

Grant Expected Early This Evening With Fair List of Passengers

Providing fog does not delay her in the Straits, the American Mail liner President Grant will dock at the Rithet piers this evening at 7 o'clock from ports in the Philippine Islands, China and Japan.

She will remain here most of the evening and will proceed shortly after midnight to Seattle to complete her trans-Pacific voyage there to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock. Capt. M. M. Jensen is in command of the President Grant.

Among the passengers aboard the ship are several who will disembark at Victoria, including Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson Moore of Vancouver, and Miss M. Burke of Manila, who will visit in Canada. Among the passengers who will proceed to Seattle are Commander R. F. Bernard of the United States Navy with Mrs. Bernard, H. A. Braunstein of Manila, Chin Mei Tsai, returning from a business and pleasure trip to the Orient; E. H. Johnson, of the Leggett-Myers Tobacco Company; C. J. Komaroff, prominent exporter of Shanghai; C. A. Kountz, of the General Motors Corporation; King Chien Chuen of Shanghai; Charles M. Lockhart of Shanghai; Mrs. A. P. MacFarland, wife of A. P. MacFarland, of the Texas Oil Company, and Mrs. Margaret Tinsling, mother of Donald Tinsling, agent in Shanghai for the Dollar and American Mail lines.

Also aboard the President Grant is a party of Chinese students on their way to various colleges and universities in Canada and the United States. The party includes Miss Lee Kin Fong of Shanghai, Loek Ping Kuen, Patricia Hsin, Tuen Feng, Su Tu Yin Hien, Wang Kuo Sung and Woo Koon Shee, all of Shanghai.

Around the Docks

The O.S.K. liner Arizona Maru will reach William Head quarantine station from the Orient to-night at 9 o'clock. A. E. Shanks of Rithet Consolidated Limited, local agents, was advised this morning by wireless from the master of the ship. This time will bring the vessel alongside the Rithet piers about 10.30 o'clock to leave passengers here and discharge cargo before proceeding to Seattle. The Arizona has a good passenger list, including a tourist party of sixty-two returning from a tour of the Orient.

ROCHELLE SAILS
Bound for Victoria with a small parcel of cargo, the Kingsley freighter Rochelle sailed from San Francisco at 3 o'clock this morning. King Brothers, local agents, have been advised. She will dock at the Ogden Point piers some time on Monday.

REMAINS OUTSIDE
Because of the banks of fog lying low over the inner harbor this morning, the Canadian National steamer Prince David docked at the Ogden Point piers on her arrival from Seattle at 2 o'clock. She did not come inside and passengers for Vancouver joined her at Ogden Point.

FREIGHT SHIPS
King Brothers expect the freighter Oakworth in Brentwood Bay on Sunday to load railroad ties for the United Kingdom, the Brockville at Ogden Point on Monday and the Steel Mariner on Tuesday or Wednesday.

ALASKA SERVICE
The C.P.R. steamer Princess Charlotte is now southbound on her final trip of the year to Alaska. She will arrive here on Monday. The Princess Louise will maintain the C.P.R. service to the north until the middle of October, sailing from Victoria for Skagway on September 7, September 17, September 28 and October 8.

HERE IN MORNING
Inbound from the Orient, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia is expected at the William Head quarantine station at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning and at the Rithet piers about an hour later on her way to Vancouver to complete her voyage.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Matson Line officials yesterday confirmed reports the Oceanic Steamship Company has exercised an option with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation for construction of a third express passenger liner and mail liner similar to the two giant steamers being built for them at Fore River, Mass.

Specifications call for a vessel 532 feet long, seventy-one feet wide and with a displacement of 25,885 tons. The cost will be approximately $8,500,000 and the vessel will accommodate about 600 passengers. It will be built at Fore River and probably will enter the Pacific Coast-South Sea service.

Loaded to the "international load limit" with 7,373 tons of California barley, the British steamer Glenmore sailed from here yesterday bound for Avonmouth, England.

The shipment is one of the largest barley cargoes to sail from here this season.

Tide Table

The time used in Pacific standard time. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The hours for high water are distinguished by high water from low water. When tides occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Aqueduct at any tide add 10.9 feet to the height of high water or subtract 10.9 feet from the height of low water.
